NUMBER 10

EDITOR
SAYS—

It is with extreme regret that we hear of the illness of Mrs. C. H. Denman, of this city, and of the operation that followed at Brandon Hospital in Poplar Bluff Thursday morning at which time her appendix was removed followed by a gaul bladder operation. At 1:00 o'clock she was still under the influence of the anesthetic, but was apparently getting along as well as could be expected. Friends and acquaintances hope for her speedy recovery.

Father Time is not a respecter of persons when he yields his scythe to take toll of humanity. When he took from us A. J. Goetz, a stranger to the most of us, he cut down the one man of many who was building up Southeast Missouri and to whom many were watching with interest the experiments he was conducting in bringing back to production land that had been badly used. In years Mr. Goetz was not an old-man, and his untimely death is greatly regretted. May his son follow in the footsteps of his father and carry on the experiments.

As we grow older we believe we grow more or less childish as little favors shown us pleases just like a child. Our weakness has been for candy, just like a child, and when some one of our grown children send us a box we are just as pleased as a child. Our son, Milton, of Atlanta, Ga., was in Washington City, last week, and Tuesday morning of this week a large box of Velatis caramels, the best in the United States, was received inclosing a card that bore greetings from Catherine and Milton. How pleasant it is to be remembered.

Have you done your bit toward entertaining our guests of the state Christian Endeavor that gathers in our city November 7-10? This bit that we are talking about is a substantial contribution of cash and the offer of beds and breakfast. About half of the cash to be raised has been pledged and the sleeping arrangements are way short of requirements. We urge every one in the city who can possibly do so, to advise any member of the committee in charge of arrangements of their willingness to help in any way to make our visitors leave with good opinions of our city, our people and our hospitality. Jews, Gentiles, Protestants and Roman Catholics are as one for Sikeston and an unfortunate word should not keep anyone from opening their homes to these young people from all over the state.

The great fault with human beings is they seldom "come to" until late in life when they can do little else than reflect on the past and wish they had "come to" forty years sooner. The "come to" is meant to realize how much we have missed by not taking life more serious and being worth more to our families, our friends and communities. For ourselves we now know that we have missed what should have been the happiest day of our life by not having "come to" ourself sooner and been more of a companion to our own children and a good fellow to others. This paragraph is meant for those who have children and perhaps are too busy trying to make a living to spend much time to make them happy. Take the time and "come to" now, that your reflections in after life may be sweeter.

The "Gift of God" baby has been taken from Nellie Muenchen and placed in the Children's Hospital there to remain until the Court decides who is the rightful mother. This poor babe will never know if it really had a father or mother. Nellie was boozed by speculators and Jones her tool, was hissed. The officers removed Nellie from the court room and the judge ordered her to stay out until the case is finally decided. This is just about the rottenest case in the memory of man and the public at large have Nellie's number.

Miss Easternlee Dew, of St. Louis, has been in Scott county for several days visiting home folks at Diehlstadt and friends in Sikeston. The Standard acknowledges a pleasant call.

Hardly a day goes but what several applicants for old age assistance ask us if we have any news for them, and we have not. Have patience in all we can tell them, and from the way things now look, many will die before their applications are passed on.

St. Louis Constables to Form Plan For Traffic Regulation

Constables of the seven St. Louis county townships will discuss a uniform plan for traffic regulations when they meet at the courthouse in Clayton next Tuesday, it was announced after a conference of constables and representatives of the St. Louis and St. Louis county chambers of commerce in the prosecuting attorney's office Tuesday.

The action to formulate rules of procedure in making arrests for traffic regulations was taken after more than a hundred Southeast Missourians joined the Poplar Bluff Daily American Republic in an expose made recently about Carondelet township's speed trap.

In a letter to Justice O. P. Worley of Carondelet township, J. H. Wolpers, editor of the American Republic wrote: "Approximately 128 Southeast Missourians have reported by letter and otherwise to this office that they have, at some time or other, deposited $8.20 or $8.70 in your court of justice for alleged traffic violations. Most of these men and women have been indignant, for the reason that they had violated no traffic law to justify arrest."

"No criticism, of course, attaches to your office, Southeast Missourians, seemingly, have been frequently irked by constables and deputies in your township. Furthermore, the posting of a modest $8.20 'bond' is a bit irregular, when compared with the system in use here. Into what public fund is revenue from that source directed? How, in other words, is the money divided?"

At Tuesday's meeting, Constable Joseph L. Doran, Jr., of Carondelet township said that speeders are numerous on the four major highways that traverse the township—Nos. 61, 66, 30, and 77. "I appreciate all the letters and editorials that are being written, because they may serve to warn motorists to travel more sanely," he said. "Five residents of the township and one outsider have been killed on the highways there in the last six months. We've had as many complaints from our residents about the speeding as complaints from outsiders about arrests. In my opinion, not enough drivers are being arrested."

Between 45 and 55 arrests for speeding are made each week by Doran's deputy constables, who charge drivers with exceeding the limits: 55 miles an hour for passenger cars and 45 miles for trucks, except on hills and curves. Court costs of $8.20 are divided in this manner: $3 to the deputy making the arrest; $2.70 to the justice; and $2.50 to the constable.

Drivers arrested may make $200 bonds for appearance in court or they may post $8.20 cash bond that will be forfeited and applied as costs if they do not come for trial. Associate Prosecuting Attorney Wolfe who presided at the meeting, said it is illegal to collect costs without first filing an information. If the violation is serious, the offender should be given a ticket, Wolfe said.

"Arrests of this character may easily be made a racket. How square a deal can a motorist expect to get when the justice of the peace and the arresting officer have a monetary interest in the outcome of the case?" he said. "These wholesale arrests will have to be cut down or the prosecuting attorney will seek some other law-enforcing agency to patrol the roads. But the constables should be able to work out a system to prevent us all from being blackened as having a bunch of traffic traps."

Purcell To Be Editor Of New City Directory

Conly Purcell will be editor in chief of a new city directory members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will publish. Dr. Howard A. Dunaway, president of the organization, said this week. Members definitely decided to sponsor publication at their meeting Tuesday night.

Harold Ancell will be advertising manager; Frank Miller, census editor; L. E. Ordelheide, rural editor; Kendall Sikes, city streets editor; Walter Weekley, Classified business section editor; and Kemper Bruton, historical and map section editor.

Publication headquarters will be maintained in a McCoy-Tanner building room the Junior Chamber expects to lease soon.

Fourteen members of the Poplar Bluff Junior Chamber of Commerce met with the Sikeston organization Tuesday, bringing with them a four-piece band. Before adjournment, these girls performed: Mary Hart, vocal solo; Patsy Ruth Gentles, song and tap dance; Phyllis Harrison, acrobatic dance; Billy Frances Dorough, tap dance; and Shirley Shainberg, song and tap dance. They were accompanied by Mrs. O. T. Elder.

New Plan To Finance 1936 Chevrolet Cars

A new plan to finance the unpaid balance on new cars, that not only saves the customer a substantial amount of money but is so simple that he figures the costs himself, is available to all purchasers of new Chevrolet cars, H. G. Sharp, Secretary-Treasurer Mitchell-Sharp Chevrolet Co., announced at his office today.

"This plan known as the G. M. A C 6 per cent plan is a simple straight-forward one devised by General Motors Acceptance Corporation, a subsidiary of General Motors, and welcomed by us as another economy we can pass on to buyers of the new 1936 Chevrolet," Mr. Sharp stated.

"Under this plan the buyer knows exactly what it will cost him for time payment service. Actually it is as simple as A. B. C. The buyer merely takes the unpaid balance due, adds to this the amount of his insurance and multiplies the result by 6 per cent. The answer is the entire cost of financing the unpaid balance and insurance for 12 months. For payment periods longer or shorter than 12 months the cost is one-half of one per cent.

"The G. M. A C reduced time payment service is offered on all new Chevrolet cars and trucks."

60 From County To Be Enrolled in CCC Nov. 1

Sixty young men from Scott county relief families will be enrolled in the civilian conservation corps on November 1, C. L. Blanton, Jr., chairman of the county FERA committee, announced Tuesday.

The county allotment was included as part of an additional 1910 Missouri youths who will be sent to CCC camps by the first of next month. In order that Scott county recruits may be selected soon, Mr. Blanton suggested that men desiring places in CCC camps go immediately to Benton to register either with Robert Sanders or Miss Audrey Chaney.

With the announcement Monday that an order for discontinuing a negro CCC camp near Hendrickson in Butler county had been countermanded, the section included in Southeast Missouri still has twelve camps. The Greenville camp in Wayne county, the Ellisnore camp, and two camps at the Sam A. Baker state park will be abandoned.

In addition to the Hendrickson camp, these remain: at Pemiscott camp, these remain: at Perryville; at Delta in Cape Girardeau county; at New Madrid; at Hayti in Pemiscott county; at Big Springs; at Fremont; at Deer Run near Ellington; at New Liberty in Oregon county; at Bardley in Ripley county; at Bunker in Reynolds county; and at Centerville, also in Reynolds.

ST. LOUIS GROUP TO BE AT NIGHT CLUB OPENING

Kay Corcoran and his orchestra will play and a group of St. Louis performers will present a floor show at the opening of The Gables, Sikeston's new night club, Saturday night.

Hollister & Boyers, the contractors engaged by J. P. Keiser, the club's manager, to remodel the Hebbler barn two and a half miles south of here, will have finished their work in time for the opening.

The floor show and orchestra will be here for a performance Sunday night, as well, and residents may dance at the club every evening.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEE DIES OF SELF-INFLICTED WOUND

David Perry, a 61-year-old car inspector for the Cotton Belt railroad, died in Illmo at noon Monday of a bullet wound accidentally self-inflicted while he was cleaning a .25 calibre automatic pistol. The bullet caused an internal hemorrhage when it penetrated the stomach and severed a blood vessel.

Perry, who was conscious almost the entire two hours he lived after shooting himself, told physicians he thought the safety device of his loaded gun was in place. The pistol discharged as he was rubbing it with a cloth.

For twenty-six years Perry had been a car inspector in Illmo, where he had gone from Bloomfield. He is survived by a brother, Tom Perry of Bloomfield; two sisters, Miss Ida Perry of Bloomfield and Mrs. Sarah Kelly of Ava; his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Perry of Bloomfield; and three step-children.

MANY SOCIETIES TO WIN ANCHORS FOR ATTENDANCE AT C. E. CONVENTION

Advance registration for the state Christian Endeavor convention indicates that Sikeston will be taxed to accommodate delegates who come here for the four-day session next week-end.

Besides the Sikeston societies, which have registered enough delegates to win Anchor symbols, many groups from out-state communities are to be well represented here. The list includes the Christian church society of King City; Church of God of Richmond; Christian of Hickman Mills; First Christian of Poplar Bluff; East Grand Presbyterian of St. Louis; Union society of Olney; Antioch Community of Liberty; Villa Heights Christian of Joplin; and Christian of Garden City.

The Independence Boulevard Christian A.C.E. society of Kansas City will send more than twenty-four delegates. These districts have paid their convention finance quotas: western, capitol, eastern, northeastern, Lead Belt, Kansas City, central, southwest, St. Louis and southern.

Woman Seeks To Regain Young Child Held Here

A hearing on a habeas corpus writ filed by a former Sikeston woman to regain custody of her 3-year-old daughter, Wanda Ogden, was continued until the November term of the Scott county circuit court when it was called for hearing at a special circuit court session in the Common Pleas courthouse in Cape Girardeau Wednesday.

The woman is Mrs. Lola Hensley Ogden, 24-year-old former Sikeston high school student and a sister of Trickey Hensley of Sikeston, who with Mrs. Hensley has possessed the child since July.

Mrs. Ogden, her husband, Jimmy Ogden, both of Havana, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Trickey Hensley, Mr. and Mrs. William Hensley, and Mrs. Hunter Stephens, relatives, appeared in court Wednesday, the day the writ was returnable. The continuance was granted when the respondents stated they want certain Illinois residents present at the hearing.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hensley, Wanda's grandparents, lived in East St. Louis until last July.

They formerly maintained a residence here and Mrs. Ogden lived with them until she married Jimmy Ogden, a railroad section worker. The child was born in East St. Louis, Mrs. Opal Jones, of Sikeston, a sister of Mrs. Ogden and Trickey Hensley, said in court Wednesday. Later, she lived with her grandparents part of the time and with her mother the remaining months.

Mr. and Mrs. Trickey Hensley lived with Hensley's parents until twelve days ago, when they found an establishment of their own, taking Wanda with them. On the same day, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden came here to get their daughter, and failing, filed the writ with Judge Frank Kelly.

Mr. and Mrs. Trickey Hensley contended in a formal return to the writ that the mother is not able to care for Wanda and that they can easily supply her needs.

Robert Dempster and M. G. Gresham represented the respondents and W. P. Wilkerson and J. M. Massengill served as attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Ogden.

Widow of Man Killed In Gun Battle To Get $2665

Mrs. Mary Reed of Sikeston must be paid $2665.67 as compensation for the death of her husband, Connie Reed, in a gun battle at Senebaugh's December 14, 1932, the Springfield Court of Appeals has ruled.

Reed was killed at the garage, where he worked, when officers exchanged shots with Llewellyn Hunter, whom they were trying to arrest. Before the Workmen's Compensation Commission, to which she took an action against the Senebaughs, Mrs. Reed was successful in her claim that her husband was killed while he was working for his employers, gaining an award of $2665.67. The commission's decision was appealed to the Scott county circuit court, where it was affirmed, as it was by the Springfield court, to which it was next taken by the defendants. James A. Finch, Jr., was Mrs. Reed's attorney. Blanton & Montgomery represented the Senebaughs.

TWO ARE INITIATED INTO BETA SIGMA PHI CORORIFY

Mrs. Walter Ancell and Miss Margaret Fisher were initiated as pledges into Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday night, at the formal pledging service which closed the fall rush month.

The initiation was at the home of Miss Hazel Young. The ceremony was read by the president, Mrs. Garwood Sharp, and Mrs. H. E. Reuber, sponsor, played and sang songs of the sorority. Members were in black formal, wearing corsages of yellow chrysanthemums, displaying the colors of the society. The decorations also carried out the general color scheme of black and yellow.

After admission into the organization, the new members were given flowers and taken to a theatre party at the Malone.

MADRID PRODUCERS FAVOR CORN-HOG CONTROL PLAN

Four hundred and fifty-four New Madrid county farmers voted in the corn-hog referendum Saturday, Leslie B. Broom, the county agent, has announced. Producers cast 387 votes favoring continuance of the program and 47 opposing it, Broom said, adding that 197 non-signers balloted favorably while 47 did not. Only four contract signers voted no.

WHEAT CHECKS RECEIVED FOR NEW MADRID COUNTY

Checks for the second 1934 wheat program have been received in New Madrid county, except for 27 contracts, which have been delayed due to correction. This last receipt of checks totals $1622.06, on 64 checks. Also, 64 checks for the first 1935 payment were received at the same time. The total amount of these is $4,268.20, making a total of wheat payments at this time of $5890.26. Indications are that the remaining payments will probably be made in the very near future.

BOY SHOT THURSDAY NIGHT

Jack Patrick, 15, of Williams street, was shot through the right thigh about 8:30 Thursday night, as a result of Halloween pranks. According to Dr. Presnell who treated Patrick the bullet passed through the fleshy part inflicting a painful but not necessarily dangerous wound. According to the boys who were with Patrick they were on Wakefield Ave., just off Moore Avenue, and had attempted to push a locked car into the street when a dog barked at them and one of them threw a rock or clod at the dog, when two shots were fired, one of them striking Patrick. As this is written officer Daniels is making an investigation.

Negro teachers from Southeast Missouri counties as far north as St. Francis and as far west as Butler will meet in Poplar Bluff for an annual convention November 14 and 15. Lloyd W. King, state superintendent of schools, will be principal speaker.

ALL 1935 CONTRACTS AND COMPLIANCE TO BE COMPLETED IMMEDIATELY

Since the end of the year is drawing near it is very necessary that all 1935 business be rounded into shape. All producers who may have forms sent you for correction are urged to do so immediately in order that this matter may be all cleared up by the end of the year. Also, it is to your advantage to do this, in order that your payments may come in with the least possible delay.

Any producer, who has been notified of excess cotton, and has not yet destroyed it must do so by the end of this week or be certified out of compliance.

POULTRY RECORD BOOKS NOW READY

Poultry record books for those who desire to keep a record of their farm flocks are now ready according to County Agent Broom, November 1st, is the beginning of the year for this record, since this date approximately is the beginning of the new laying season.

These books are free for the asking, being furnished for producers by the Poultry Department, Extension Service, University of Missouri. The records are not difficult to keep and are a big aid in checking on what is being done by the flock. Monthly reports of what is being done by all record keepers are sent each month. Also, many helpful suggestions may be had through this service.

TROOPERS PROVE ALIBI IS FALSE AT ROBBERY TRIAL

Frazer Melvin Dace and John Tandy returned home Wednesday night from Fulton, where they went Monday to testify at the trial of Thomas Simmons of St. Louis, who was charged with torturing William Howe, a negro farmer, and robbing him of his $500 in savings. The patrolmen went to Fulton to testify in the Calloway county circuit court trial that Simmons' alibi that he was visiting a brother near Benton was false. Simmons was given a life sentence in prison by jurors who deliberated five hours.

1649 Bales of Cotton Ginned

According to a census report just received from Tharon Stallings, special agent of the department of commerce, 1649 bales of the 1935 cotton crop were ginned in Scott county prior to October 18 as compared with 7137 by the same time last year.

1936 M. E. CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN FARMINGTON

Next year's annual meeting of the St. Louis conference of southern Methodist churches will be held in Farmington, according to Rev. Dawson C. Bryan, presiding elder of the Cape Girardeau district. The meeting place was chosen by presiding elders when they convened in St. Louis Monday.

Demented Negro Stabs Wife 6 Times With Knife

Tuesday, Oct. 29.—Ben Wolf, a demented negro, stabbed his wife, Senora, six times this morning after locking her in his cabin behind the O. T. Elder home, 747 North Ranney street.

One knife thrust penetrated the left breast directly below the heart, and Dr. G. W. Presnell, who attended Senora, feared for a time she would suffer an internal hemorrhage and die. Her pulse became normal this afternoon, however, and unless complications develop she will recover rapidly.

Wolf was kept from killing his wife by O. T. Elder and F. M. Watson, a Cape Girardeau linesman here temporarily to fill Roy Beaird's place, who broke down the cabin door with an ax and pulled Wolf from Senora. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ira Shuffitt, and after a complaint had been filed against him in Judge William S. Smith's court, he was taken to the Benton jail. His hearing was set for Thursday.

In addition to the left breast wound, Senora suffered two other stabs in her left chest, one in her right chest, one in her arm, and a sixth in her throat.

Senora and Ben Wolf, a brother of Sam Wolf, who works at Shainberg's had been married eight years, and for some time they had lived behind the Elder home on North Ranney. They were well liked because they caused no difficulty and were competent workers.

Wolf, an apparently normal man, had worked until recently at the Sikeston cotton oil mill. On Saturday night, however, he returned home, saying he had been fired. Soon afterwards he began acting queerly and telling companions that people were trying to "get him."

Taking her husband to Dr. Presnell for an examination, Senora learned that he was losing his mind. Her suspicions and Dr. Presnell's findings were strengthened when Wolf imagined the physician had given Senora pills that would kill him. He gave no indication of violence, however, and with the help of Mrs. Elder, Senora managed to administer medicine prescribed.

This morning a negro neighbor woman came to Mrs. Elder to say that Wolf had locked Senora in the cabin with him and refused to let her out. Before going to the dwelling, Mrs. Elder asked the Southeast Missouri Telephone office to have Mr. Elder return home quickly. Outside, she found the cabin door locked, but when she called to Wolf he unfastened the door and admitted her.

As Mrs. Elder stood in the room Senora motioned to her that Wolf had a knife, and thinking to distract him and get him from the cabin, Mrs. Elder asked him to sweep her front porch, saying she wanted it cleaned before expected guests arrived. He was on the point of following her when she heard the sound of the telephone line truck carrying Mr. Elder and Mr. Watson.

He evidently remembered the knife again, for after pushing Mrs. Elder from the cabin, he locked the door and attacked Senora. He inflicted the six wounds before the two men could gain entrance to the room.

Senora was treated immediately by Dr. Presnell, and while friends were straightening the cabin, torn up by Wolf, Mrs. Elder kept Senora in a back room of her home.

Because officers are waiting to learn definitely if Senora Wolf will recover from the stab wounds inflicted by her husband, Ben Wolf was not brought here for a preliminary Thursday morning. If Wolf is adjudged insane he will not stand trial but will be sent to a state hospital. Sheriff Joe Anderson said Thursday that Wolf shows no signs of insanity while he sits in a cell at the Benton jail. He is apparently normal now.

TWO CHOSEN TO OPERATE NEW SINCLAIR STATION

Herman L. Mattingly and Wesley R. Lair have been selected by C. J. Simon, zone merchandising manager of the Sinclair Refining Company, St. Louis, to operate the new Sinclair services station now rapidly nearing completion on the northwest corner of Kingshighway and Center street.

Mattingly and Lair will be given a two-weeks' course in operation and merchandising methods at the Sinclair Refining Co.-training station at Kingshighway and Easton in St. Louis. The station will open about Thanksgiving.

EMPLOYMENT GOAL OF 70,000 SET BY MURRAY

An employment goal of 70,000 men by December 1 has been set by Matthew S. Murray, Public Works Administrator for Missouri with headquarters at Jefferson City.

The rapidity with which he hopes his organization will be able to launch projects was announced definitely for the first time recently by the WPA chief upon his return from a regional conference in Chicago.

By November 1, he said, he plans to have 20,000 at work through the state and by November 15 there should be employment for 50,000 men and women under his program.

With about $18,000,000 in WPA funds already released by Comptroller General McCall at Washington, Murray asserted he would be able to speed up the program. He said the remaining five million

Rules CCC Program Will Be Permanent

A hope that the civilian conservation corps will be made a permanent part of American life was expressed by Robert C. Fechner, national CCC director, in an address he delivered in Cape Girardeau Monday.

The CCC, Fechner said, is "one of the most important accomplishments of the federal government in that it is rehabilitating an army of young men who previously had been forced because of unemployment," into a state of idle wandering.

The program should be made permanent, he said, not only to conserve and restore natural resources but to continue work of building youth morale. Enrollees now have a normal life, he said, telling how they work eight hours five days each week and then participate in directed recreation.

"The CCC program was designed for two purposes," he said, "to relieve a serious unemployment situation, and to accomplish useful work. Through the combination of both we hope to rehabilitate and conserve the human element, giving a greater moral courage to this army of young men who, by virtue of the program, are earning every dollar the government pays them and have become responsible bread winners supporting their dependent families."

In talks at the state college and at a dinner meeting at Fairground park, Fechner outlined the origins of the CCC, conceived by President Roosevelt, and told of accomplishments under the program.

Fechner believes the president still retains his popularity throughout the country, he said in an informal interview in Cape Girardeau Monday. Roosevelt is progressing with his New Deal program and most of the people are supporting him in his efforts to accomplish good, he said.

"We can't help remembering that the previous administration sat back and waited for three years for something to happen," Fechner said. "President Roosevelt declared during his campaign that he would do something and he has carried out that pledge. He has not waited for something to happen."

"He has said repeatedly, and says still, that if he finds what he has tried is not working he will try something else. Whether he has been successful the people will decide next year. I think they will stay with the president."

These Sikeston residents attended the dinner meeting: C. L. Blanton, Jr., A. W. Swacker, J. L. Matthews, Murray Phillips, W. H. Sikes, Miss Audrey Chaney, and Mrs. Ruth McGurie.

PRESIDENT GREEN

Addressing the convention of the American Federation of Labor last week, Secretary Frances Perkins painted a glowing picture of the future relations of labor and capital. "Strikes and lock-outs will be fewer . . . Fundamental causes of the conflicts can be intelligently diagnosed and remedied . . . Labor is qualified and competent to define its obligations and to impose such to time. It should not be imposed upon itself these rules of discipline and self-government so necessary for the maintenance of its improved status in the community."

Contrast with these idealistic notions the address of President William Green to the federation a day or two ago. He was discussing the 30-hour-week which he regards as "the sole remedy for our present dilemma." He said among other things:

"We are going out of here and fight for this as we have never fought before. If there's anyone who opposes this, let him get out of the way, because the American Federation of Labor will not tolerate a slacker . . . Nothing will stop us from securing the 30-hour-week . . . We'll get it either through the exercise of our economic strength or through legislation. While many of us would rather get it through economic strength, I am sure we are not particularly concerned about the method as long as we get it."

Apart from his wholly unjustified belief that the 30-hour-week is a panacea for unemployment, President Green's attitude is certainly not that of a leader who comes up to Madame Perkins' noble conception. When he uses the words "economic strength," presumably he means strikes, boycotts, picketing and all that labor disturbances have meant in the past. His comment that he is not particular about methods is especially alarming. He gives no indication that the increased power which labor has received from the New Deal has sobered him or, indeed, had any other effect on him than to stimulate him to apply heavier and heavier pressure to those who disagree with him.

Labor has not disciplined itself heretofore. That it will do so hereafter merely is a hope, not an expectation among those who are familiar with labor activities.

Organized labor was never in greater need of wisdom, prudence and sound supervision than at present. American labor leaders have been deficient for many years in those qualities of labor statesmanship which have appeared among the British. President Green and his associates appear to have learned little or nothing from the failure of the 40-hour-week experiment under the New Deal. In their eagerness to advance their cause, they have consistently overlooked the welfare of the public and of the millions of unorganized workers.

Madame Perkins' ideals are simply unattainable under such a leader as Mr. Green. In effect he hints at a nation-wide strike to obtain a work week which in the end would be extremely harmful to industry, the public and to union labor itself. Let Madame Perkins make an effort to have the president of the federation discipline himself if she would usher in a strikeless era.—Boston Herald.

Italy, in penetrating Ethiopia, follows a trail through Senafe and Adigrat, marked out by the British in 1888, when Lord Napier led a punitive expedition, wiped out the army of the Abyssinian Emperor, who committed suicide—name was Theodore—and retired with interesting souvenirs, including an ancient manuscript describing the visit of Queen Magda of Sheba, or Abyssinia, to King Solomon, which told how Solomon happened to become the ancestor of all the Ethiopian Emperors, including Haile Selassie.—Arthur Brisbane.

"Stop" Means 15 Miles
"Per" to Many Drivers

Drivers of trucks are more careful than drivers of passenger cars in observing "Stop" signs, according to engineers of the United States Bureau of Public Roads who studied traffic in cooperation with State authorities in Rhode Island. Nearly 16 per cent of the trucks and 20 per cent of the passenger cars passed stop signs at speeds between 3 and 15 miles an hour, but only 4.5 per cent of the trucks, as compared to nearly 7 per cent of the passenger cars, exceeded 15 miles an hour.

It was revealed that drivers often prefer using their own judgment to obeying stop signs. The stop signs were more generally obeyed in urban than in rural districts, and in all locations the percentage of drivers obeying the signs rose as the volume of traffic increased. Even the less careful drivers stopped at intersections where traffic was heavy and there were obstructions to the driver's view of the intersecting road.

BULLDOGS WILL PLAY
AT FARMINGTON TODAY

The Bulldogs will leave this morning for Farmington, where at 2:30 this afternoon they will play the first of a series of three out-of-town games before returning to their own field for a meeting with the Charleston Blue Jays on Thanksgiving.

The Farmington Knights have not had an entirely successful season. Although they defeated Dexter 18 to 0, they were badly beaten by Jackson and the Cape Central Tigers, the last game on October 24. Elmer Yates, star of the team in 1934, has been giving notable performances in the backfield, in passing, and in line smashing as he nears the end of his high school football career.

On November 8, the Bulldogs will play at Perryville and on November 15, at Kennett.

FIRE OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN
BURNS CAR AND GARAGE

A 1934 Plymouth coach owned by Paul Chaney and a garage belonging to the Taylor estate were burned early Tuesday morning. Firemen who were called to the home of Orville Taylor on Lake street at 2 o'clock found the garage and automobile in flames. Origin of the fire was not learned. Chaney had put his car in the garage at 11 o'clock Monday night and then retired. The loss of both the automobile and the building was covered by insurance.

An inmate of the Kansas Penitentiary made formal complaint; "The straw mattresses used here are so old and lumpy I get so tired at night I have to get up and rest myself."

The three state forest camps will be at Salem, Ellington and Sullivan.

The eleven state park camps will be at Bennett Springs, Roaring River, Bennett Springs, Washington, Cuivre River, Centaur, Lake of the Ozarks and Pacific.

The wild life conservation camp will be at Squaw Creek Refuge, Mound City.

The six drainage camps will be at Canton, Carrollton, Delta, New Madrid, Hayti and Rockport.

The soil erosion prevent camps are ordered for: Bethany (two camps, Tarkio, Eagleview, Kahoka, Kirksville, Linneus, Palmyra, Blue Springs, Union, Fulton, Paris, Perryville, Butler, Mount Vernon, Liberty, Warrensburg, Savannah, Maysville, Salisbury, California, Bowling Green, Maryville, Albany and Moberly).

The number of CCC campers in Missouri will not be decreased because projects in thirteen state camps are being discontinued not because camps in Minnesota and Arkansas are being disbanded, it was learned. Men at ten Missouri camps will be transferred to neighboring companies; and two companies will be moved to Nebraska; and a third to South Dakota. One hundred and fifty Minnesota recruits will be distributed throughout the state and about 300 Arkansas youths will be assigned to Southeast Missouri companies.

The following Missouri camps will be disbanded and enrollees transferred to other camps.

Van Meter State Park, Marshall, Chesapeake State Park, Mount Vernon; Brownbranch, Ava; Camp Falcon, Lebanon; Camp Steelville, Dillard; Camp Cabool, Cabool; Camp Winona, Winona; No. 1740, one of two camps at Big Springs Park, Van Buren; and negro camp, Poplar Bluff.

One of the three companies at Kaiser, Mo. 1726, is to be transferred to Maryville and the veteran's company at Maryville is to be disbanded.

The following companies will be moved to other states as indicated: Company 3740 and Company 740 at Camp Sam A. Baker, Piedmont, to Madison, Neb., and Spalding, Neb., respectively; Company 1738, Camp Ellsinore, Ellsinore, to Telford, South Dakota.

HIRTH GATHERS HIS CORN

It seems the frost has nipped Bill Hirth's corn crop and the problem that concerns him most at the moment is to see how much of the crop he can save for winter feed. Bill, rattling good farmer that he is, knows that the birds have gone south early and that the varmints have extra heavy fur, meaning that it is going to be a long, hard winter. But after the corn is snugly in the crib, Bill has another little matter to attend to, namely, Tom Pendergast, who, as another famous Bill put it, bestrides our narrow world like a Colossus.

Bill does not like dictators and dictators do not like him, so it seems it is up to Bill to pull a Cincinnati, put a hitch in his galluses, spit on his hands and go into action. Not that the matter is finally decided, for Bill is the type of man who clouds up slowly. But as it is reported from Kansas City, Tom Pendergast's openly-expressed choice of Major Stark for Governor means that Hirth is "practically certain" to challenge the Pendergast organization by seeking the Democratic nomination for himself.

If he does, Missouri will have one of the finest battles royal since the heyday of Jim Reed. The fur will fly, the feathers will float and the air will be full of loud and excruciating noises. For Bill packs a hefty wallop and, on the rostrum, makes verbs, nouns and adjectives perform nifty combinations. The State will be told about Pendergast as it never has been told before. That campaign will be no place for anyone with a faint heart or a lily liver.

We admit pleasure at the possibility of Hirth's candidacy, but we fear that the fun will last only until the votes are counted.

After Pendergast's approval of Stark's candidacy was announced the St. Louis Democratic leaders fell over themselves in seconding the motion. That means that the two great populous centers of Missouri are, in all probability, in the Major's vest pocket. In addition, the Pendergast State machine is prepared to carry on the war into Bill Hirth's Africa, the country. On paper, therefore, the hope is that Bill hasn't a Chinaman's chance.

Meantime, Bill is getting in his corn and thinking it over, carefully and quietly. One certain thing is that, if he does cloud up, he sure will rain.—Post Dispatch.

Of late everytime the telephone rings we jump sideways hoping it is news authorizing the building of our sewers and streets. But generally some one wants to rent a house or rooms. Then again we hear that projects will be cut up in units as our man power is low. From Washington they say we have eleven million dollars released for Missouri, from Jefferson City that thousands of men are to be put to work by November 1, and from the local division headquarters, no projects received here to be released at this time. And there you are.

"The lighting system they have on the Sikeston field may have had something to do with all this fumbling. They have old equipment and not so many lights as are on the Chaffee field, and consequently the field is not as bright and well lighted as the Chaffee field."—Chaffee Signal.

An impression seems to prevail that quail hunting regulations have been changed for this year. This is not the case. The season and bag limits are the same as in the past and dog owners have nothing to worry about as dogs may be used in the field as in the past.

Cade, the florist of Cairo, was through Sikeston Thursday on his way home from Kennett, and while in the city paid The Standard a call. We are always glad to meet this splendid gentleman.

All Sikeston should be proud of our High School band, our Red Peppers and our Drill Team. They present a beautiful sight and add much to the entertainment at all school functions. In a few days new we are to have the state-wide Christian Endeavor meeting in this city and we wonder if it would be asking too much of the instructor, drill captains and all, to march this splendid group of young people down town and show our guests that we have something to show them besides our hospitality, our pretty homes and up-to-date stores.

CARTHAGE PLANT TO CLOSE BECAUSE OF LABOR CONDITIONS

CARTHAGE, Mo., Oct. 28.—Officials of the Carmo Shoe Manufacturing Company announced yesterday its Carthage plant, employing 460 persons, would be closed because of unfavorable labor conditions.

In a statement to the Chamber of Commerce, company officials said that "owing to present conditions and the agitation which has been going on among our employees it is impossible for us to continue operation."

Factory officials said operations this year had resulted in heavy loss and with no indication of better co-operation from employees the company was unwilling to risk further loss.

The payroll has averaged $8,000 to $10,000 a week. The plant began operation in 1930.

Duplicate tags returned to the Game and Fish Department this week, revealed that deer were killed in thirteen counties during the three-day season. A total of eighty (80) deer were taken. The return by counties follows: Gasconade twenty-four; Taney, fourteen; Franklin, nine; Dent, nine; Crawford, five; Carter, seven; Ste. Genevieve, five; Osage, two; Dunklin, one; Ripley, one; Shannon, one; Wayne, one; Oregon, one; Later returns no doubt will swell the total to equal that of last year when ninety-three legal deer were taken in fifteen counties.

BIG INTERESTS SEEK CONTROL OF NATION, REP. WILLIAMS SAYS

Before one of the more enthusiastic meetings ever held in Phelps county, Rep. Clyde Williams of the Eighth district, told an overflow audience assembled at Rolla by the Young Democratic club that "selfish disciples of centralization" naming leaders of Eastern Republicanism were seeking control of the country for the benefit of the Mellons, Millers, Hoovers and other of like pretensions.

These reactionary Republicans in command are so "died in the wool of their partisan blindness that they either cannot or will not see the material improvement wrought in the last two and a half years by the Democratic national administration," he said.

"When this administration put into operation the AAA," he declared, "to make operative the principle of a protective tariff as to the farmer, certain selfish interests in the East that had fattened on special legislation yelped and whined that they were paying the processing taxes by which the farmers were benefitted."

"These same interests would be perfectly content to go back to 10-cent corn, 5-cent cotton, 30-cent wheat and 2-cent hogs while they want special legislation so they can continue to pillage the people. We are earnestly striving to bring agriculture to a parity with industry. Everyone knows there can be no lasting prosperity until the condition of agriculture improves. The farmer is engaged in a basic industry. His economic condition must be made better; his purchasing power increased."

"Some of the Republican leaders say that the policies of this administration have retarded recovery, discouraged industry, hampered commerce, destroyed individual rights, ruined the small business man, increased unemployment and regimented the farmer."

"When they make this charge they ignore the fact that of every 100 employed in the manufacturing industry in 1929, the number had dropped to 57 in 1933 and had risen to 75 in January, 1935, or an increase of more than 30 per cent. Out of every $100 paid in wages in 1929, the amount was reduced to $36 in January, 1933, and raised to $50 by the first of last year, an increase of 69 per cent. Payrolls in the automobile business have increased 131 per cent. Dunn & Bradstreet reports show retail business increased during the first of the year under NRA by 21 per cent and there has been fewer business failures than at any other time since 1920. Bank failures have virtually ceased.

"The Republican leaders know that many of the unfair and illegal trade practices that heretofore prevailed have been abolished. They know that child labor and sweatshops have been outlawed. They know electrical output and carloadings have increased; that postal and express receipts have grown rapidly. They know that the prices of agriculture products have doubled and trebled."

"They know that lead, one of the most important products of this state, which in 1932 was selling at $2.90, is now selling at $4.34, an increase of exactly 50 per cent."

"In the face of these facts, some of the reactionary, die-hard Republicans are standing on street corners or sitting on goods boxes with the corners of their mouths drawn down talking in doleful and mournful tones about the terrible condition of the country. They are afraid the budget is not going to be balanced. They shudder to think of the enormous debt the government is incurring and fear it will bankrupt the people to pay it when not one out of ten of them ever paid or ever will pay a dollar of federal taxes."

The Department of Commerce reports that St. Louis department store sales during the week ending October 15 increased 18 per cent over the previous week and 31 per cent over the corresponding week of 1934, while cooler weather accounted for "good gains" over the previous week in Kansas City retail trade.

That the drawing power that brings business to a city from the surrounding country is to satisfactorily supply the needs of the people.

The success or failure of business concerns depend upon their relations with the public.

Cheerfulness and courtesy attract business to a store.

Stores will rise or fall with the reputation they maintain.

The building of a business is an endless chain of doing one thing after another to make it a great center of service.

Business concerns appeal to the public through advertising.

They tell the public in a pleasing manner what they have to sell.

They always try to carry in stock that which they think the public wants.

The modern business man knows that the best quality is good for his customers.

Quality merchandise gives lasting service.

Quality merchandise makes satisfied customers and increases business.

Newspaper advertising is the best means of obtaining the steady sale of merchandise.

FACE REVEALS MUCH OF INDIVIDUAL CHARACTER

By Harry Zimmerman

The study of character and its indications are as old as the hills and therefore the tendency of mind in this direction must arise from a special mental trait.

The changin' g expression of the face is everywhere regarded as a mirror in which the passing thought or present emotion can be seen. If you are afflicted by grief or blessed by joy, shadowed with melancholy or excited by wit, inspired by faith or led by conscience, inflated or dominated by pride, the emotions awakened by these different states and revealed in the face may become so far fixed as to defy concealment. But let your circumstances be suddenly changed; let grief be turned to joy and trouble, care and vexation will fade from your countenance and leave scarcely a trace.

Then there are expressions of face inherited from joyous or sorrowing parentage. In the same family one child absorbs the sunshine of its mother's joy and it glows from its face for a lifetime; another, if circumstances have changed, will wear the tear marks or the expression of bitterness that darkened the mother's life, and no doubt the brain as well as the face will bear a similar and even more permanent record.

The very attitudes and motions assume, by long habit, an expression of the inner life. One accustomed to the exercise of authority gets a stiffer spine, a more exalted head, and firmer lines of the face, and the brain conforms in development and activity to the conditions that have become habitual.

For centuries the face has been studied and gradually they are reducing the face to a science with a great deal of success. People will study the face and its expressions and be influenced by it without having any science or rules for it or any means of explaining it. Yet by instinct or reason their impressions will be correct. A very good example of this was brought to light after a short talk in one of your local churches Sunday morning. A young man about 30 explained his predicament in a sad way as far as his vocation was concerned. After a few minutes of conversation I straightened out some of his problems and immediately the expression in his face was changed, as it was noticeable to me. As it is in an individual so it is in every neighborhood and city fully 85 per cent are in their wrong vocation in life. In school it is found that one person will succeed best in one study, another in another, and neither will come up to the measure of his best power on every subject. In a single family one child takes to music, another to mathematics, another to languages, another to trade, and another to art, and not one could profitably change with another his business or profession.

Any one interested in the science of psychology and character analysis may write in his problems and I will be pleased to answer them. I am also forming classes which will include the following subjects: The shape of your head and what it indicates; your color—whether you are blonde, brunette, or red head and what each signifies; your profile and what it means; expressions in your eyes, mouth, chin, and jaw; what your nose and ears denote; choosing your careers; hands and handshakes and what they signify; how to walk, talk, sit, stand, wear your hat; developing personality; how to discover your faults and weaknesses and how to overcome them; psychological tests; correcting the habits of your children; study of conscious—un or subconscious and super-conscious mind; the feminine man and the masculine woman; and many other subjects that will be of interest to you.

Furniture sales are "pointing sharply upwards" for the first time in eight years, according to Frank E. Seidman of Chicago. In addressing the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers, he said: "During the first three quarters of 1935, the industry's activity rose some 33 per cent above 1934, and present prospects indicate that the industry will attain a 1935 volume of somewhere around $300,000,000 in 1934. The 1935 volume should be closely approached that for 1931, when about $320,000,000 of business was garnered."

RECOVERY NOTES

Compiled by Dwight H. Brown, Secretary of State.

Newspaper advertising increased almost 4 per cent in September, as compared with a year ago, Advertising Age reports. Lineage figures for 82 representative cities showed a gain of 3.9 per cent, or 5,321,000 lines, over September, 1934. The total for last month was 142,448,000 lines, compared with 137,125,000 lines a year ago.

An increase of 54 per cent in building construction in 1936 is predicted by Russell G. Creviston at the Central Supply Association's convention. Creviston, official of a Chicago plumbing supply firm, estimates next year will see a 100 per cent increase in residential construction, a 200 per cent gain in commercial building, a 20 per cent increase in industrial building and a 10 per cent advance in the institutional building field.

The cotton-spinning industry is reported by the Census Bureau to have operated during September at 93.9 per cent of capacity, on a single-shift basis, compared with 78.4 per cent for August this year, and 54.3 per cent for September last year.

The first 88 corporations reporting earnings for the third quarter of 1935 show a gain of 18.7 per cent over the like quarter of 1934, a tabulation by the Associated Press shows. For the entire first nine months of the year, 93 corporations reporting showed a gain over the like period of last year of 23.3 per cent.

Secretary Roper predicts the nation's income would increase 5 to 10 per cent in 1935 from 1934's nearly $50,000,000,000. Addressing the National Sales Executives' Conference recently, the Secretary of Commerce summarized the business situation to show the "most encouraging sales picture which have existed since 1929."

The F. W. Dodge Corporation reports that September home building amounted to almost $42,000,000, which is 134 per cent above September 1934. The total of $338,908,000 for the first nine months of 1935 compares with $188,083,000 for the same period in 1934, an increase of 80 per cent.

Bank clearings at Kansas City for the week ending October 19 exceeded 100 million dollars for the first time since the week ending July 18, 1931. This week's total of $100,300,000 represented an increase of 20 per cent over last week and 25 per cent over a year ago.

Business is better. The total revenues of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company for the nine months ended September 30 were $55,421,007, as compared with $52,609,982 for the corresponding period in 1934.

A September advance in private industrial employment to the highest level in five years is reported by Secretary of Labor

Perkins. She said factory pay rolls kept nearly apace in listing these figures. Approximately 350,000 workers returned to wage-paying jobs in September, compared with August's 155,000 gain. Weekly pay rolls for both manufacturing and non-manufacturing industries advanced more than $12,000,000 over August.

"We are headed out of the depression and well on our way to recovery," declares August A. Busch, Jr., St. Louis capitalist. "During the next eighteen months," he predicted, "the bulk of the unemployed of America will be back at work in private industry."

Business is definitely on the up-grade in the Katy territory, says Matthew S. Sloan, M. K. and T. president. He says that the road's October business will show a 35 per cent rise over October 1934, and November and December traffic will be at least 25 per cent above the corresponding period last year.

Average weekly freight loadings of miscellaneous manufactured goods in carload lots during September were 8 per cent above August. Movement of goods by truck is estimated at 20 per cent greater than a year ago.

The Farm Administration expended $1,418,479 in Missouri in July. Only the Hawaiian Islands, Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas received a greater amount. Missouri farmers received $1,340,060 in rental and benefit payments during the month.

Research Points Way to Longer Lasting Leathers

Research studies in progress by chemists of the United States Department of Agriculture show that longer life for leather bookbindings and other leather goods intended for many years of service may be obtained through the development of combination vegetable-chrome tanned leathers to take the place of the purely vegetable-tanned leathers so generally used today.

Vegetable chrome tanned leather is more resistant to rot from acids in the air than vegetable-tanned leather, according to studies by R. W. Frey, and C. W. Beebe, of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils.

Vegetable-tanned leather is entirely organic, being made with infusions of vegetable materials, such as woods, barks, leaves, and fruits. Chrome-tanned leather, in distinct contrast, is partly mineral in nature being tanned with compounds of the metal chromium. A combination of these two tannages appears to offer promise of a compromise in satisfactory workability of the resulting leather plus marked increase in resistance to decay over the straight vegetable tannages.

The two differently tanned leathers were subjected to accelerated aging and rotting by exposure in a gas chamber at the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils. After 9 weeks' exposure the combination vegetable-chrome tanned leathers lost only from 5 to 12 per cent of their strength as compared to losses of from 35 to 40 per cent for the vegetable-tanned leathers made from the very same hides.

Although at first the vegetable-tanned leathers were stronger their rate of rotting was so much faster that after 9 weeks in the gas chamber their strength was less than that of the combination tanned leathers.

ANNISTON MAN KILLS SELF ACCIDENTALLY

Charleston, Oct. 28—M. A. Hicks, 72, of Anniston, eight miles south of Charleston, accidentally shot and killed himself about 11:30 this morning. Mr. Hicks, a prominent resident of Anniston for about forty years, had been in the back yard of his home, where he had killed a chicken hawk with a shotgun. It is supposed that he stumbled on the back steps, returning inside the house, discharging the gun, shooting himself between the eyes and blowing the top of his head off.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mae Hicks, two sons, Col. C. D. Hicks, of St. Louis, Noral Hicks of New Madrid; three daughters, Mrs. R. N. Stewart, Mrs. E. M. Stewart, and Mrs. Roxy Hudson, and two grandchildren, of Anniston.

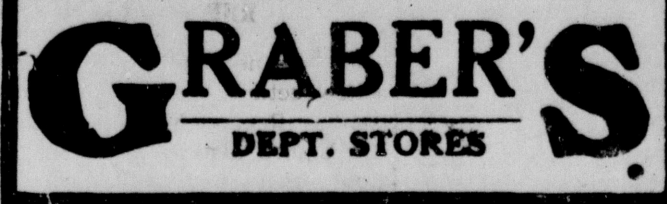

COUNTY VOTES 15-to-1 ON CORN-VOTE REFERENDUM

Corn-hog contract signers voted fifteen to one to continue the program and non-signers voted twelve to one to continue a corn-hog adjustment program.

Seventy-two per cent of the eligible corn-hog contract signers cast a ballot. Due to the fact that such a large percentage cast a ballot, the vote is interpreted to give a true picture of what Scott County farmers think about the adjustment programs. Every township in the county gave a strong ballot in favor, showing that the sentiment was uniform over the county. Two townships did not have a "No" vote among the contract signers. These two were Kelso and Tywappity.

The contract signers gave a vote of 358 "yes" and 25 "no" while the non-signers gave 103 "yes" and 15 "no".

Bank clearings continue well above those reported at this time in recent years. The total for leading cities for the week ending Wednesday, October 9, as reported by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., was $5,025,048,000, against $4,021,619,000 a year ago, an increase of 25 per cent. For the preceding week, the advance was 37.1 per cent.

CAPE COD STYLE HOUSE
IS BEING BUILT ON LAKE

A five-room frame house is being built on Lake street for Mrs. Florence Marshall of Blodgett.

Miss Alice Walton, a Kansas City architect who came here in September, has chosen a southern adaptation of a Cape Cod style for the residence.

From a small portico ornamented with two pillars and wrought iron railings one will enter a hallway fitted with a large coat closet.

The living room, 16.3 by 15.9 feet on the right, has several windows and a fireplace. To the left of the entrance hall is a bedroom, which is connected with a second directly behind it by the bath. Both rooms have large closets.

Miss Walton has designed the pullman kitchen so that the house occupant may reach any part of it with only turning. The sink is along the south wall under a window; the range on the north wall; and the icebox in a space next to a door into the rear passageway. The breakfast room is to the right of the kitchen behind the living room. Linen and broom closets are in the rear passageway.

Part of the basement, which will be placed under half the house, may be converted into a recreation room if the occupant desires. The absence of supporting posts will leave the entire space next to the furnace clear.

Cape Cod shutters will be placed on the windows, and the back of the house will resemble a front entrance in order that its elevation may be attractive from the garden.

Excavation for the house on Mrs. Marshall's 50-by-160 lot between Kingshighway and North Ranney was begun Wednesday. Miss Walton is superintending construction and J. A. Sutterfield is contractor. The residence will be rented when it is completed in sixty days.

CITY MUST CONTRIBUTE
$2500 TO GET ARMORY

Delay in final approval of an armory for Sikeston has been caused in previously announced plans concerning construction of forty-five buildings throughout the state with WPA funds, it was learned this week.

Missouri national guard heads who had charge of placing the armories in the state were told recently that individual cities must serve as sponsors for the projects, contributing about $2500 each as their share in addition to donating lots for building sites. No definite information about Sikeston's armory will be available for at least a week.

"Oh, that's all right—everybody expects to be cheated at these charity affairs, anyway."

OGLESBY TO CONDUCT
REVIVAL AT ELVINS

FOREMOST COMPOSER MAY
PERFORM HERE IN MARCH

Charles Wakefield Cadman, who is perhaps America's foremost composer, may come here for a performance next March. Superintendent Roy V. Ellise said yesterday.

Cadman's appearance will be assured if it is backed satisfactorily, Mr. Ellise said. Members of the Woman's club will discuss sponsoring the performance at their meeting Tuesday, and other organizations are expected to offer help so that residents may hear Cadman.

Cadman is composer of numerous well-known pieces and is remembered particularly because of his songs with Indian themes, including "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water" and "To a Vanishing Race", and his opera, "Shanewis".

Cadman has only recently returned from a summer's tour of Sweden and Denmark, where he was enthusiastically received by audiences and critics. His appearance here would add another name to the list of internationally known men coming here this fall and winter. Albert Solvi, the harpist who appeared last week, and Richard Halliburton, the noted traveler who will speak January 7. Cadman will be accompanied by a talented quartet.

THERE'S NO CAN'T IN A CAN!

We hear a great deal about French cuisine, Italian cuisine and hotel cuisines as though a cuisine were some remarkable thing found only in the big metropolis or abroad, where they spent three or four days making soup or sauerbraten. As a matter of fact, you, I and every woman who has her own kitchen has a cuisine. It's only a style of cooking, and we each have a style of our own whether in wearing a hat or preparing a dinner.

Our modern way, of course, is as work-and-time saving as the continental way is laborious. A French woman may use twenty ingredients in a stew and keep it blending and brewing on the back of her stove for days, while we come in from a bridge party at five o'clock in the afternoon, open three or four cans, bring out a supply of seasoning and by six our stew is done—a stew which a master of cuisine could well be proud of.

Actually, there's no can't for a woman whose cupboard is full of cans. Some people think canned foods are uninteresting, and that opening a can is usually a last resort. Of course cold, unseasoned apple sauce, sauer kraut or carrots, as they come out of a can have little appeal until you do something with them. But heat the applesauce, seasoning it to taste with brown sugar and spice, and you could fool anybody that you'd spent a good part of the morning paring apples. Prepare the sauerkraut in typical German style, heating it in drippings which have been thickened with a little flour, then adding vinegar, cloves, brown sugar and water, letting it simmer twenty minutes, and finally adding a raw apple cut up very fine just before serving.

Carrots from a can taste garden-fresh if you prepare them in this interesting Belgian way. Use diced carrots or dice the canned carrots before heating them in a casserole with two tablespoons of butter, to teaspoons of powdered sugar, a small chopped onion, and salt and pepper to taste. Garnish with minced parsley before serving.

Just to give an idea of the dishes which can easily and quickly be prepared by "opening a can" there's lamb stew with dumplings (the lamb stew is canned); salmon biscuit rolls, made with canned salmon and prepared biscuit mix; sardines on toast with cheese and tomato sauce (sardines are canned, tomato sauce is condensed tomato soup); kidney beans and hamburger; hominy and stuffed apples; tomatoes, carrots and lima beans baked.

We usually think of canned foods as a matter of convenience. But they represent economy from three distinct angles: buying economy, fuel economy and time saving. The buying economy enters in when the larger sized cans are purchased, and the part of their contents which cannot be used immediately are stored in the refrigerator.

If you have a good-sized electric refrigerator for such storage, you will never find it necessary to use the second portion of spinach or corn the next day after using these vegetables in a dinner. Canned foods stored in a food compartment which holds an unvarying temperature below 50 degrees will be fully as fresh and palatable two or three days later. Use No. 2 1-2 size cans, for they hold one cupful more than the No. 2 cans and the additional cost is very small.

Kidney Beans and Beef

1 No. 2 can kidney beans
1-2 lb. Beef ground
1-4 lb. salt pork
1 onion chopped
Chop onion and salt pork, cook in a frying pan until onion is brown. Add the kidney beans, season and cook until ingredients are thoroughly blended. Serves 4-6.

Tomato Omelet

1 No. 2 can tomatoes
4 eggs
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1-2 cup milk
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
Seasonings
Cook the tomatoes and seasonings until the juice has been reduced about one half. Soak the bread crumbs in the milk about 20 minutes. Beat the eggs, add the half teaspoon salt, combine with the milk and bread crumbs. Cook in a frying pan or omelet pan in the butter. When firm, fold the omelet, serve on a hot platter surrounded by the hot seasoned tomatoes. Serves 4.

Apple Gingerbread

1 No. 2 can sliced apples
1-4 cup brown sugar
1 tsp butter
1 teaspoon mixed spices.
Put apples in baking pan, sprinkle with brown sugar and spices, dot with butter. Pour hot water gingerbread mixture over this and bake in a moderate oven about 30 minutes. Serves 4-6.

FINAL DRIVE FOR ROOMS, FUNDS LAUNCHED AS DAY FOR C. E. MEETING NEARS

With the program for the state Christian Endeavor convention completed, Sikeston young people's organization leaders were almost ready today to entertain the several hundred delegates expected here for the meeting November 7, 8, 9, and 10.

PLANS MADE FOR ANNUAL RED CROSS ROLL CALL

A continued increase in membership and in health and safety activities is reported by the American Red Cross for the last fiscal year according to E. H. Orear, chairman of the local chapter.

Announcing the period of the Roll Call for this chapter, beginning on Armistice Day and ending Thanksgiving Day, the chairman reminded local members of its added responsibilities.

"Because the Red Cross is neither altogether a governmental agency nor wholly a private one," he said, "it has a unique place in American life in this era when economic and physical relief must be given to many people, in all communities."

"Under our charter obligation we must be prepared to act in times of emergency, and we have to carry on in the name of the American people, the service to War veterans and service men pledged in our charter."

"Organized as we are, in 3,700 chapters and 9,000 branches all over the United States, and having a trained staff and thousands of volunteer workers ready to handle disasters, the Red Cross is in a position to give instant and effective work in every day life of our communities. Services to handled disasters, the Red Cross needs, and training for leaders for the future, are included in the departments of Red Cross service."

"Disaster relief stands guard 24 hours of every day and night, year after year. Last year Red Cross relief was given in 123 disaster areas in the continental United States."

"Home service for veterans and service men and their dependents is strictly community service. Many chapters actually bring in to their communities, through claims work, more money per annum than the total asked for the chapter from the public for the entire chapter program."

"First aid and life saving is an educational service, which gives valuable training for men in industry, police and fire departments and individuals in the home and school."

"The public health nursing service carries on an educational program of health, and promotes practical health projects for schools, communities and homes. A reserve of Red Cross nurses is maintained for service in disaster or other emergency."

"The Junior Red Cross offers local, national and international contacts for teachers and pupils, thus giving new meaning to studies of geography and history. The training in relief and humanitarian work affords an invaluable training for community service for future citizens."

"Volunteer services include production of garments and other relief essentials, motor and canned corps units, staff assistance corps-trained workers for all types of specific services, for emergency or routine chapter activities."

"Red Cross membership dollars buy these services for any chapter, any community. The Scott county Chapter will shortly begin a canvass to urge that the whole community unite in giving a larger membership, and thus a larger opportunity, for the Red Cross in this community."

Geo. W. Kirk of Sikeston has been appointed Roll Call Chairman for Scott County and is now making plans for the membership drive for this year.

FARM IMPROVEMENT WORK INDICATION OF RECOVERY

An additional sign of recovery was noted this week when it was learned that large insurance company, owner of vast tracts in this district, is having numerous of its farms improved.

In Northeast Arkansas, a company contractor and carpenter has recently placed on each of five eighty-acre tracts these improvements: one and a half story house; a barn; a smokehouse; a chicken house; a latrine; and complete fencing. The work is thought to indicate that large landowners are beginning to rehabilitate the land.

Hand Cut By Breaking Glass

right hand early Wednesday morning when glass of his truck cab door broke. The accident happened as he slammed the door near the Williams cafe on Highway 61, causing a deep cut thru the back of his hand and lesser cuts on his fingers. Thurman was able to continue his journey after Dr. Howard A. Dunaway had treated him.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK SHOW TO OPEN NOVEMBER 30

The 1935 International Livestock Exposition will be held at the union stockyards in Chicago from November 30 to December 7, it was announced today.

P. H. Heide, an executive of the exposition, said: "Although the 1934 exposition established a new record for exhibits and an all time record for attendance, every indication is that the forthcoming show will exceed its predecessor in both respects." Many features are being planned for this winter's exposition, including several for entertainment as well as education.

Jefferson City, Mo., October 29.—Passenger motor cars manufactured, assembled and sold in this state after January 1, 1936, must be equipped all around with "safety glass" under the provision of House bill No. 176, sponsored by Speaker John G. Christy and passed by the Assembly and approved by Gov. Park.

In an interpretation of this law sent to Secretary of State Dwight H. Brown, today, Attorney General McKittredge holds that trucks need not be so equipped if passengers are not carried for hire. Under this interpretation, the act applies only to busses and automobiles.

It is held by the Attorney General that any vehicle, truck, or bus, or passenger car used for the purpose of carrying passengers for hire must be equipped with safety glass.

Palmer Bock, 11, wanted to help his dad work on the car in the family garage, 7216 Everell avenue, Chicago. Mother said all right. So Palmer went, and arrived in time to save his father from carbon monoxide death. The man had been overcome in the closed garage. Firemen called by the boy revived Bock after a two-hour fight.

FEED MY SHEEP

Evening shadows were falling, I sat in the old arm chair, Weighted by grief and sorrow, Thinking of worldly care.

A vision appeared, 'twas the Master, The picture was mirrored there, The Shepherd had gathered the sheep to the fold.

With his ever watchful care, I gazed with awe and wonder, Spellbound as though in sleep, "What would'st Thou have, O Master?"

And he answered, "Feed my Sheep." I thought 'twas a dream or a feverish thought

And turned to my worldly life again, Why call on one so humble I thought,

'Twas surely not I that the Master sought. A storm arose o'er the city, The vision a vigil did keep, "Have mercy, O Master," I whispered.

But he answered, "Feed my Sheep!" "I burn on thy forehead my living word,

I mark thee as my own, This comes from the God Almighty, Being my children home. "Go ye into all the world, And preach my word to them. I give to thee my spirit

To save the souls of men. "I will go, O loving Master, O'er mountain, valley and deep, I thy command will answer, Master, I feed thy sheep!"

—Adah McRaven.

Stop Chills and Fever!

Rid Your System of Malaria!

Shivering with chills one moment and burning with fever the next—that's one of the effects of Malaria. Unless checked, the disease will do serious harm to your health. Malaria, a blood infection, calls for two things. First, destroying the infection in the blood. Second, building up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and to fortify against further attack.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic supplies both these effects. It contains tasteless quinine, which kills the infection in the blood, and iron, which enriches and builds up the blood. Chills and fever soon stop and you are restored to health and comfort. For half a century, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic has been sure relief for Malaria. It is just as useful, too, as a general tonic for old and young. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle at any drug store. Now two sizes—50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2½ times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25% more for your money.

WHAT ABOUT THE ITALIAN-ETHIOPIAN WAR?

By Elder John B. Huffman

Elder Huffman again says that he had closed his street preaching in Sikeston for 1935, but, upon request, will make one more important Bible talk Saturday afternoon, November 2, at 2 o'clock, in the little park in front of Sterling's store, on the "Termination of the Italian-Ethiopian War", what will be the climax, what nations will eventually be drawn into it, according to Bible prophecy, and will this eventually lead to the Anti-Christ. Must the Roman Empire really be revived, as the Bible affirms, to bring about the culmination of events that are shaping and have begun, which will require just a few years to complete—perhaps not more than three or four.

This is a very important Bible lecture, and the most important pertaining to prophetic events and the Signs of the Times and the time of the end of this dispensation, leading to the Anti-Christ.

Everybody invited to hear this very important lecture pertaining to these critical times. It will be of much value to Bible students, and to the general public who like undenominational Biblical explanations, says Elder Huffman.

Miss Muriel HHurt, who was more seriously injured when the car Mrs. Mildred Blake was driving to Sikeston left Highway 61 in Pemiscot county, will remain in the hospital two or three weeks longer. Surgeons who operated October 21 on a vertebra broken in the accident, have found that the lower part of Miss Hurt's body is still paralyzed. Her legs will be kept in a cast for five or six months.

Mrs. Blake was brought home from the hospital last week.

The Fidelis class of the First Baptist church will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. C. E. Jones, 418 Prosperity, Monday evening, November 4, at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Lorene Boyer will be assistant hostess.

GOV. PARK NOT READY TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 29.—Gov. Park reiterated to-day it was still "premature" to call a special session of the Legislature for revising the old-age pension laws.

This was the substance of a reply to Dr. R. Emmet Kane, chairman of the St. Louis Old-Age Assistance Board, which requested the session to pass an act "that will accomplish the purpose that the people of Missouri have been led to hope and believe it will accomplish."

"It is my opinion," the Governor said, "that calling a special session of the Legislature for that purpose at this time would be premature. My thought is that the legislation hastily considered and enacted without full information of the facts relating to the subject matter is never desirable and rarely useful."

"At this time, the amount to be realized from the sales tax, from which source funds for old-age pensions purposes will come, has not been accurately ascertained."

SYNOPSIS

Captain Michael Andrews, of a British armored car division on the Eastern Front, is rescued from the Turks by a mysterious British secret service agent who calls himself "Smith." In a battle with Smith, Andrews suffers a broken leg and is sent to a British hospital in Cairo, where he falls in love with his nurse, Rosemary. He asks Rosemary to marry him, but she reveals that she married a secret service agent who vanished at the outbreak of the war. Her husband, John Stevenson, who is the mysterious "Smith," reappears on the scene and asks Rosemary to go away with him. Meanwhile, Andrews is ordered away on a mission. Before he leaves, he sees Rosemary. They have a quarrel and on her way home Rosemary is run down by a truck and dies in her husband's arms calling for "Michael."

CHAPTER VII

At first Stevenson was merely stunned by his wife's death and her mention of another man's name. But after her funeral the finding of "Michael" became an obsession with him. First he went to the hospital to search the records for a patient having that first name. Surely enough he found Captain Michael Andrews listed in the register.

Then he invited Nurse Rowlands to his home and proceeded to pump her for information. At first the girl was frightened and refused to tell him anything.

"But you were a great friend of my wife's, weren't you?" he persisted, staring at her unwinkingly. "We... we worked together. She was the loveliest person I ever knew, but I..."

Stevenson rose as she choked back her tears. He placed a consoling hand on the girl's shoulder. Then he crossed to the writing table and picked up an envelope which lay there.

"Before she died, my wife gave me this," he said softly. "She asked me to give it to 'Michael.' Do you know who 'Michael' is? I want to deliver the letter. I gathered that he was a patient, but there might be twenty Michaels."

Disarmed by his calmness, Nurse Rowlands stammered: "What... what's in that letter?"

"I haven't any idea. All I want to know is how to do... what my wife wanted."

"It must be Captain Andrews," hesitated the girl. "His name was Michael. He was a great favorite... with everyone."

Slowly Stevenson tore the letter into small pieces.

"That's all I wanted to know," he said harshly. "You may go."

Reporting at general headquarters, Stevenson next inquired as to the whereabouts of his "friend," Captain Andrews. Learning that the latter had been sent to the Sudan, he then approached the lieutenant general in charge and asked to return to the front.

"Haven't you had enough?" His superior officer was surprised. "You've got four months leave to go yet."

"I want something to do, sir," replied Stevenson miserably. "I don't want to think. My wife's death, you know..."

"Of course! Of course!" answered the embarrassed general. "Foolish of me. Well now, let's see..." He turned to his maps.

"Something new, sir..." Stevenson persisted, his black eyes gleaming. If anything's doing in the Sudan, for instance?"

The general started, struck by the idea. "Hmmm," he said thoughtsirens still brought no answer. Andrews stepped forward and put a shoulder against one of the gates. It was unlocked. Puzzled and hesitant the little party entered, then stopped in horror.

The inside of the fort was a shambles. Dead men lay crumpled in awkward positions on all sides. Empty gasoline cans were scattered about the courtyard.

"No wonder we didn't see no sentries, sir," whispered Foster. "The tribesmen stormed the fort and gutted it. I say! This is pretty awful!"

"Bad business!" agreed Andrews. "Wonder whether there's a drop of fully. "You might be just the man..."

In the meantime Andrews and his armored car unit were forging through the desert on their way to relieve a fortress which had been surrounded by enemy tribesmen. The road was long and dangerous and their gasoline began to run low. It was with a sigh of relief that the captain sighted the mud ramps of the fortress in the distance.

"Think we can make it?" he asked the driver.

"If it ain't more than ten miles away, sir," answered the soldier, peering through the narrow slit of the windshield and then at the gasoline gauge where the needle quivered near "Zero."

Their luck held and an hour later all the cars of the unit pulled up before the gates of the fort.

"That's queer! Not a sign of anybody," muttered Andrews. "Foster," he shouted to his orderly. "Give 'em a toot."

When the shrieking of the auto

water or a can of petrol left?" "Don't think so, sir," answered a sergeant who had been investigating. "The water casks are all staved in."

"Prescott," cried the captain, turning to a young soldier, barely out of his teens. "Go back to the cars at once. Get them all through the gates. Then get a fatigue party to put all the available fuel from all the cars into the tank of yours. Hurry now!"

"Right," answered the boy with a smart salute.

"Only thing to do is to send your car back to Haifa to bring fuel and water. We'll stick it out here. If you're not back in three days, or the natives attack again, God help us!"

Glowing with pride that he had been chosen as the one to make the relief sortie and not realizing that Andrews had given him the assignment to protect him from almost certain death, Prescott hurried back to his machine to execute the order.

THE EDITOR SAYS—

It is with extreme regret that we hear of the illness of Mrs. C. H. Denman, of this city, and of the operation that followed at Brandon Hospital in Poplar Bluff Thursday morning at which time her appendix was removed followed by a gaul bladder operation. At 1:00 o'clock she was still under the influence of the anesthetic, but was apparently getting along as well as could be expected. Friends and acquaintances hope for her speedy recovery.

Father Time is not a respecter of persons when he yields his scythe to take toll of humanity. When he took from us A. J. Goetz, a stranger to the most of us, he cut down the one man of many who was building up Southeast Missouri and to whom many were watching with interest the experiments he was conducting in bringing back to production land that had been badly used. In years Mr. Goetz was not an old-man, and his untimely death is greatly regretted. May his son follow in the footsteps of his father and carry on the experiments.

As we grow older we believe we grow more or less childish as little fawns shown us please just like a child. Our weakness has been for candy, just like a child, and when some one of our grown children send us a box we are just as pleased as a child. Our son, Milton, of Atlanta, Ga., was in Washington City, last week, and Tuesday morning of this week a large box of Velatis caramels, the best in the United States, was received inclosing a card that bore greetings from Catherine and Milton. How pleasant it is to be remembered.

Have you done your bit toward entertaining our guests of the state Christian Endeavor that gathers in our city November 7-10? This bit that we are talking about is a substantial contribution of cash and the offer of beds and breakfast. About half of the cash to be raised has been pledged and the sleeping arrangements are way short of requirements. We urge every one in the city who can possibly do so, to advise any member of the committee in charge of arrangements of their willingness to help in any way to make our visitors leave with good opinions of our city, our people and our hospitality. Jews, Gentiles, Protestants and Roman Catholics are as one for Sikeston and an unfortunate word should not keep anyone from opening their homes to these young people from all over the state.

The great fault with human beings is they seldom "come to" until late in life when they can do little else than reflect on the past and wish they had "come to" forty years sooner. The "come to" is meant to realize how much we have missed by not taking life more serious and being worth more to our families, our friends and communities. For ourself we now know that we have missed what should have been the happiest day of our life by not having "come to" ourself sooner and been more of a companion to our own children and a good fellow to others. This paragraph is meant for those who have children and perhaps are too busy trying to make a living to spend much time to make them happy. Take the time and "come to" now, that your reflections in after life may be sweeter.

The "Gift of God" baby has been taken from Nellie Muenchen and placed in the Children's Hospital there to remain until the Court decides who is the rightful mother. This poor babe will never know if it really had a father or mother. Nellie was booted by spectators and Jones, her tool, was hissed. The officers removed Nellie from the court room and the judge ordered her to stay out until the case is finally decided. This is just about the rottenest case in the memory of man and the public at large have Nellie's number.

Miss Easternelle Dew, of St. Louis, has been in Scott county for several days visiting home folks at Diehlstadt and friends in Sikeston. The Standard acknowledges a pleasant call.

Hardly a day goes by what several applicants for old age assistance ask us if we have any news for them, and we have not. Have patience is all we can tell them, and from the way things now look, many will die before their applications are passed on.

St. Louis Constables to Form Plan For Traffic Regulation

Constables of the seven St. Louis county townships will discuss a uniform plan for traffic regulations when they meet at the courthouse in Clayton next Tuesday, it was announced after a conference of constables and representatives of the St. Louis and St. Louis county chambers of commerce in the prosecuting attorney's office Tuesday.

The action to formulate rules of procedure in making arrests for traffic regulations was taken after more than a hundred Southeast Missourians joined the Poplar Bluff Daily American Republic in an expose made recently about Carondelet township's speed trap.

In a letter to Justice O. P. Worley of Carondelet township, J. H. Wolpers, editor of the American Republic wrote: "Approximately 128 Southeast Missourians have reported by letter and otherwise to this office that they have, at some time or other, deposited $8.20 or $8.70 in your court of justice for alleged traffic violations. Most of these men and women have been indignant, for the reason that many believed sincerely that they had violated no traffic law to justify arrest."

No criticism, of course, attaches to your office. Southeast Missourians, seemingly, have been frequently irked by constables and deputies in your township. Furthermore, the posting of a modest $8.20 "bond" is a bit irregular, when compared with the system in use here. Into what public fund is revenue from that source directed? How, in other words, is the money divided?"

At Tuesday's meeting, Constable Joseph L. Doran, Jr., of Carondelet township said that "speeders are numerous on the four major highways that traverse the township—Nos. 61, 66, 30, and 77."

Purcell To Be Editor Of New City Directory

Conly Purcell will be editor in chief of a new city directory members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will publish, Dr. Howard A. Dunaway, president of the organization, said this week. Members definitely decided to sponsor publication at their meeting Tuesday night.

Harold Ancell will be advertising manager; Frank Miller, census editor; L. E. Ordelheide, rural editor; Kendall Sikes, city streets editor; Walter Weekley, Classified business section editor; and Kemper Bruton, historical and map section editor.

New Plan To Finance 1936 Chevrolet Cars

A new plan to finance the unpaid balance on new cars, that not only saves the customer a substantial amount of money but is so simple that he figures the costs himself, is available to all purchasers of new Chevrolet cars, H. G. Sharp, Secretary-Treasurer Mitchell-Sharp Chevrolet Co., announced at his office today.

This plan known as the G M A C 6 per cent plan is a simple straight-forward one devised by General Motors Acceptance Corporation, a subsidiary of General Motors, and welcomed by us as another economy we can pass on

60 From County To Be Enrolled in CCC Nov. 1

Sixty young men from Scott county relief families will be enrolled in the civilian conservation corps on November 1, C. L. Blanton, Jr., chairman of the county FERA committee, announced Tuesday.

The county allotment was included as part of an additional 1910 Missouri youths who will be sent to CCC camps by the first of next month. In order that Scott county recruits may be selected soon, Mr. Blanton suggested that men desiring places in CCC camps go immediately to Benton to register either with Robert Sanders or Miss Audrey Chaney.

With the announcement Monday that an order for discontinuing a negro CCC camp near Hendrickson in Butler county had appreciate all the letters and editorials that are being written, because they may serve to warn motorists to travel more sanely," he said. "Five residents of the township and one outsider have been killed on the highways there in the last six months. We've had as many complaints from our residents about the speeding as complaints from outsiders about arrests. In my opinion, not enough drivers are being arrested."

Between 45 and 55 arrests for speeding are made each week by Doran's deputy constables, who charge drivers with exceeding the limits: 55 miles an hour for passenger cars and 45 miles for trucks, except on hills and curves. Court costs of $8.20 are divided in this manner: $3 to the deputy making the arrest; $2.70 to the justice; and $2.50 to the constable.

Drivers arrested may make $200 bonds for appearance in court or they may post $8.20 cash bond that will be forfeited and applied as costs if they do not come for trial. Associate Prosecuting Attorney Wolfe who presided at the meeting, said it is illegal to collect costs without first filing an information. If the violation is serious, the offender should be placed in jail; if not, he should be given a ticket, Wolfe said.

"Arrests of this character may easily be made a racket. How about a deal can a motorist expect to get when the justice of the peace and the arresting officer have a monetary interest in the outcome of the case?" he said. "These wholesale arrests will have to be cut down or the prosecuting attorney will seek some other law-enforcing agency to patrol the roads. But the constables should be able to work out a system to prevent us all from being blackened as having a bunch of traffic traps."

Publication headquarters will be maintained in a McCoy-Tanner building room the Junior Chamber expects to lease soon. Fourteen members of the Poplar Bluff Junior Chamber of Commerce met with the Sikeston organization Tuesday, bringing with them a four-piece band. Before adjournment, these girls performed: Mary Hart, vocal solo; Patsy Ruth Gentles, song and tap dance; Phyllis Harrison, acrobatic dance; Billy Frances Dorrough, tap dance; and Shirley Shainberg, song and tap dance. They were accompanied by Mrs. O. T. Elder.

to buyers of the new 1936 Chevrolet," Mr. Sharp stated.

"Under this plan the buyer knows exactly what it will cost him for time payment service. Actually it is as simple as A. B. C. The buyer merely takes the unpaid balance due, adds to this the amount of his insurance and multiplies the result by 6 per cent. The answer is the entire cost of financing the unpaid balance and insurance for 12 months. For payment periods longer or shorter than 12 months the cost is one-half of one per cent.

"The G M A C reduced time payment service is offered on all new Chevrolet cars and trucks."

In addition to the Hendrickson camp, these remain: at Pemiscott camp, these remain: at Perryville; at Delta in Cape Girardeau county; at New Madrid; at Hayti in Pemiscott county; at Big Springs; at Fremont; at Deer Run near Ellington; at New Liberty in Oregon county; at Bardley in Ripley county; at Bunker in Reynolds county; and at Centerville, also in Reynolds.

ST. LOUIS GROUP TO BE AT NIGHT CLUB OPENING

Kay Corcoran and his orchestra will play and a group of St. Louis performers will present a floor show at the opening of The Gables, Sikeston's new night club, Saturday night.

Hollister & Boyers, the contractors engaged by J. P. Keiser, the club's manager, to remodel the Hebbler barn two and a half miles south of here, will have finished their work in time for the opening.

The floor show and orchestra will be here for a performance Sunday night, as well, and residents may dance at the club every evening.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEE DIES OF SELF-INFLICTED WOUND

David Perry, a 61-year-old car inspector for the Cotton Belt railroad, died in Illmo at noon Monday of a bullet wound accidentally self-inflicted while he was cleaning a .25 calibre automatic pistol. The bullet caused an internal hemorrhage when it penetrated the stomach and severed a blood vessel.

Perry, who was conscious almost the entire two hours he lived after shooting himself, told physicians he thought the safety device of his loaded gun was in place. The pistol discharged as he was rubbing it with a cloth.

For twenty-six years Perry had been a car inspector in Illmo, where he had gone from Bloomfield. He is survived by a brother, Tom Perry of Bloomfield, two sisters, Miss Ida Perry of Bloomfield and Mrs. Sarah Kelly of Ava; his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Perry of Bloomfield; and three step-children.

MANY SOCIETIES TO WIN ANCHORS FOR ATTENDANCE AT C. E. CONVENTION

Advance registration for the state Christian Endeavor convention indicates that Sikeston will be taxed to accommodate delegates who come here for the four-day session next week-end.

Besides the Sikeston societies, which have registered enough delegates to win Anchor symbols, many groups from out-state communities are to be well represented. The list includes the Christian church society of King City; Church of God of Richmond; Christian of Hickman Mills; First Christian of Poplar Bluff; East Grand Presbyterian of St. Louis; Union society of Olney; Antioch Community of Liberty; Villa Heights Christian of Joplin; and Christian of Garden City. The Independence Boulevard Christian ACE society of Kansas City will send more than twenty-four delegates.

These districts have paid their convention finance quotas: western, capitol, eastern, northeastern, Lead Belt, Kansas City, central, southwest, St. Louis and southern.

Woman Seeks To Regain Young Child Held Here

A hearing on a habeas corpus writ filed by a former Sikeston woman to regain custody of her 3-year-old daughter, Wanda Ogden, was continued until the November term of the Scott county circuit court when it was called for hearing at a special circuit court session in the Common Pleas courthouse in Cape Girardeau Wednesday.

The woman is Mrs. Lola Hensley Ogden, 24-year-old former Sikeston high school student and a sister of Tricey Hensley of Sikeston, who with Mrs. Hensley has possessed the child since July.

Mrs. Ogden, her husband, Jimmy Ogden, both of Havana, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Tricey Hensley, Mr. and Mrs. William Hensley, and Mrs. Hunter Stephens, relatives, appeared in court Wednesday, day the writ was returnable. The continuance was granted when the respondents stated they want certain Illinois residents present at the hearing.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hensley, Wanda's grandparents, lived in East St. Louis until last July.

They formerly maintained a residence here and Mrs. Ogden lived with them until she married Jimmy Ogden, a railroad section worker. The child was born in East St. Louis, Mrs. Opal Jones, of Sikeston, a sister of Mrs. Ogden and Tricey Hensley, said in court Wednesday. Later, she lived with her grandparents part of the time and with her mother the remaining months.

Mr. and Mrs. Tricey Hensley lived with Hensley's parents until twelve days ago, when they found an establishment of their own, taking Wanda with them. On the same day, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden came here to get their daughter, and failing, filed the writ with Judge Frank Kelly.

Mr. and Mrs. Tricey Hensley contended in a formal return to the writ that the mother is not able to care for Wanda and that they can easily supply her needs.

Robert Dempster and M. G. Gresham represented the respondents and W. P. Wilkerson and J. M. Massengill served as attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Ogden.

Widow of Man Killed In Gun Battle to Get $2665

Mrs. Mary Reed of Sikeston must be paid $2665.67, as compensation for the death of her husband, Connie Reed, in a gun battle at Senebaugh's December 14, 1932, the Springfield Court of Appeals has ruled.

Reed was killed at the garage, where he worked, when officers exchanged shots with Llewellyn Hunter, whom they were trying to arrest. Before the Workmen's Compensation Commission, to which she took an action against the Senebaughs, Mrs. Reed was successful in her claim that her husband was killed while he was working for his employers, gaining an award of $2665.67. The commission's decision was appealed to the Scott county circuit court, where it was affirmed, as it was by the Springfield court, to which it was next taken by the defendants. James A. Finch, Jr., was Mrs. Reed's attorney. Blanton & Montgomery represented the Senebaughs.

TWO ARE INITIATED INTO BETA SIGMA PHI CORDORITY

Mrs. Walter Ancell and Miss Margaret Fisher were initiated as pledges into Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday night, at the formal pledging service which closed the fall rush month.

The initiation was at the home of Miss Hazel Young. The ceremony was read by the president, Mrs. Garwood Sharp, and Mrs. H. E. Reuber, sponsor, played and sang songs of the sorority. Members were in black formal, wearing corsages of yellow chrysanthemums, displaying the colors of the society. The decorations also carried out the general color scheme of black and yellow.

After admission into the organization, the new members were given flowers and taken to a theatre party at the Malone.

MADRID PRODUCERS FAVOR CORN-HOG CONTROL PLAN

Four hundred and fifty-four New Madrid county farmers voted in the corn-hog referendum Saturday, Leslie B. Broom, the county agent, has announced. Producers cast 387 votes favoring continuance of the program and 47 opposing it, Broom said, adding that 197 non-signers balloted favorably while 47 did not. Only four contract signers voted no.

WHEAT CHECKS RECEIVED FOR NEW MADRID COUNTY

Checks for the second 1934 wheat program have been received in New Madrid county, except for 27 contracts, which have been delayed due to correction. This last receipt of checks totals $1622.06, on 64 checks. Also, 64 checks for the first 1935 payment were received at the same time. The total amount of these is $4,268.20, making a total of wheat payments at this time of $5890.26. Indications are that the remaining payments will probably be made in the very near future.

BOY SHOT THURSDAY NIGHT

Jack Patrick, 15, of Williams street, was shot through the right thigh about 8:30 Thursday night, as a result of Halloween pranks. According to Dr. Presnell, who treated Patrick the bullet passed through the fleshy part inflicting a painful but not necessarily dangerous wound. According to the boys who were with Patrick they were on Wakefield Ave., just off Moore Avenue, and had attempted to push a locked car into the street when a dog barked at them and one of them threw a rock or clod at the dog, when two shots were fired, one of them striking Patrick. As this is written officer Daniels is making an investigation.

1649 Bales of Cotton Ginned According to a census report just received from Tharon Stallings, special agent of the department of commerce, 1649 bales of the 1935 cotton crop were ginned in Scott county prior to October 18 as compared with 7137 by the same time last year.

1936 M. E. CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN FARMINGTON

Next year's annual meeting of the St. Louis conference of southern Methodist churches will be held in Farmington, according to Rev. Dawson C. Bryan, presiding elder of the Cape Girardeau district. The meeting place was chosen by presiding elders when they convened in St. Louis Monday.

ALL 1935 CONTRACTS AND COMPLIANCE TO BE COMPLETED IMMEDIATELY

Since the end of the year is drawing near it is very necessary that all 1935 business be rounded into shape. All producers who may have forms sent you for correction are urged to do so immediately in order that this matter may be all cleared up by the end of the year. Also, it is to your advantage to do this, in order that your payments may come in with the least possible delay.

Any producer, who has been notified of excess cotton, and has not yet destroyed it must do so by the end of this week or be certified out of compliance.

POULTRY RECORD BOOKS NOW READY

Poultry record books for those who desire to keep a record of their farm flocks are now ready according to County Agent Broom. November 1st, is the beginning of the year for this record, since this date approximately is the beginning of the new laying season.

These books are free for the asking, being furnished for producers by the Poultry Department, Extension Service, University of Missouri. The records are not difficult to keep and are a big aid in checking on what is being done by the flock. Monthly reports of what is being done by all record keepers are sent each month. Also, many helpful suggestions may be had through this service.

TROOPERS PROVE ALIBI IS FALSE AT ROBBERY TRIAL

Troopers Melvin Dace and John Tandy returned home Wednesday night from Fulton, where they went Monday to testify at the trial of Thomas Simmons of St. Louis, who was charged with torturing William Howe, a negro farmer, and robbing him of his $500 in savings. The patrolmen went to Fulton to testify in the Calloway county circuit court trial that Simmons' alibi that he was visiting a brother near Benton on the date of the robbery was false. Simmons was given a life sentence in prison by jurors who deliberated five hours.

1936 M. E. CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN FARMINGTON

Next year's annual meeting of the St. Louis conference of southern Methodist churches will be held in Farmington, according to Rev. Dawson C. Bryan, presiding elder of the Cape Girardeau district. The meeting place was chosen by presiding elders when they convened in St. Louis Monday.

Demented Negro Stabs Wife 6 Times With Knife

Tuesday, Oct. 29.—Ben Wolf, a demented negro, stabbed his wife, Senora, six times this morning after locking her in his cabin behind the O. T. Elder home, 747 North Ranney street.

One knife thrust penetrated the left breast directly below the heart, and Dr. G. W. Presnell, who attended Senora, feared for a time she would suffer an internal hemorrhage and die. Her pulse became normal this afternoon, however, and unless complications develop she will recover rapidly.

Wolf was kept from killing his wife by O. T. Elder and F. M. Watson, a Cape Girardeau line-man here temporarily to fill Roy Beaird's place, who broke down the cabin door with an ax and pulled Wolf from Senora. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ira Shuffitt, and after a complaint had been filed against him in Judge William S. Smith's court, he was taken to the Benton jail. His hearing was set for Thursday.

In addition to the left breast wound, Senora suffered two other stabs in her left chest, one in her right chest, one in her arm, and a sixth in her throat.

Senora and Ben Wolf, a brother of Sam Wolf, who works at Shainberg's had been married eight years, and for some time they had lived behind the Elder home on North Ranney. They were well liked because they caused no difficulty and were competent workers.

Wolf, an apparently normal man, had worked until recently at the Sikeston cotton oil mill. On Saturday night, however, he returned home, saying he had been fired. Soon afterwards he began acting queerly and telling companions that people were trying to "get him."

Taking her husband to Dr. Presnell for an examination, Senora learned that he was losing his mind. Her suspicions and Dr. Presnell's findings were strengthened when Wolf imagined the physician had given Senora pills that would kill him. He gave no indication of violence, however, and with the help of Mrs. Elder, Senora managed to administer medicine prescribed.

This morning a negro neighbor woman came to Mrs. Elder to say that Wolf had locked Senora in the cabin with him and refused to let her out. Before going to the dwelling, Mrs. Elder asked the Southeast Missouri Telephone office to have Mr. Elder return home quickly. Outside, she found the cabin door locked, but when she called to Wolf he unfurnished the door and admitted her.

As Mrs. Elder stood in the room Senora motioned to her that Wolf had a knife, and thinking to distract him and get him from the cabin, Mrs. Elder asked him to sweep her front porch, saying she wanted it cleaned before expected guests arrived. He was on the point of following her when she heard the sound of the telephone line truck carrying Mr. Elder and Mr. Watson.

He evidently remembered the knife again, for after pushing Mrs. Elder from the cabin, he locked the door and attacked Senora. He inflicted the six wounds before the two men could gain entrance to the room.

Senora was treated immediately by Dr. Presnell, and while friends were straightening the cabin, torn up by Wolf, Mrs. Elder kept Senora in a back room of her home.

Because officers are waiting to learn definitely if Senora Wolf will recover from the stab wounds inflicted by her husband, Ben Wolf was not brought here for a preliminary Thursday morning hearing. If Wolf is adjudged insane he will not stand trial but will be sent to a state hospital. Sheriff Joe Anderson said Thursday that Wolf shows no signs of insanity while he sits in a cell at the Benton jail. He is apparently normal now.

EMPLOYMENT GOAL OF 70,000 SET BY MURRAY

An employment goal of 70,000 men by December 1 has been set by Matthew S. Murray, Public Works Administrator for Missouri with headquarters at Jefferson City.

The rapidity with which he hopes his organization will be able to launch projects was announced definitely for the first time recently by the WPA chief upon his return from a regional conference in Chicago.

By November 1, he said, he plans to have 20,000 men work thru out the state and by November 15 the date and by November 15 the year for this record, since this date approximately is the beginning of the new laying season.

With about $18,000,000 in WPA funds already released by Comptroller General McCarl at Washington, Murray asserted he would be able to speed up the program. He said the remaining five million

Rules CCC Program Will Be Permanent

A hope that the civilian conservation corps will be made a permanent part of American life was expressed by Robert C. Fechner, national CCC director, in an address he delivered in Cape Girardeau Monday.

The CCC, Fechner said, is "one of the most important accomplishments of the federal government in that it is rehabilitating an army of young men who previously had been forced because of unemployment into a state of idle wandering."

The program should be made permanent, he said, not only to conserve and restore natural resources but to continue work of building youth morale. Enrollees now have a normal life, he said, telling how they work eight hours five days each week and then participate in directed recreation.

"The CCC program was designed for two purposes," he said, "to relieve a serious unemployment situation, and to accomplish useful work. Through the combination of both we hope to rehabilitate and conserve the human element, giving a greater moral courage to this army of young men who, by virtue of the program, are earning every dollar the government pays them and have become responsible bread winners supporting their dependent families."

COUPLE MARRIED HERE

Miss Lila Pointer of Canolou and Lewis Harden of Grays Ridge were married at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the parsonage of the Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. C. F. Transue, pastor of the church performed the ceremony. The couple will live at Canolou.

Sikeston's delegation included Ben Sells, Frank Kindred, W. H. Keller, Harry Stacy, W. A. Welch, W. C. Boardman, A. C. Barrett, W. A. Williams, E. V. Rules CCC Program Will Be Permanent

In talks at the state college and at a dinner meeting at Fairground park, Fechner outlined the origins of the CCC, conceived by President Roosevelt, and told of accomplishments under the program. Fechner believes the president still retains his popularity thru out the country, he said in an informal interview in Cape Girardeau Monday. Roosevelt is progressing with his New Deal program and most of the people are supporting him in his efforts to accomplish good, he said.

"We can't help remembering that the previous administration sat back and waited for three years for something to happen," Fechner said. "President Roosevelt declared during his campaign that he would do something and he has carried out that pledge. He has not waited for something to happen."

"He has said repeatedly, and says still, that if he finds what he has tried is not working he will try something else. Whether he has been successful the people will decide next year. I think they will stay with the president."

These Sikeston residents attended the dinner meeting: C. L. Blanton, Jr., A. W. Swacker, J. L. Matthews, Murray Phillips, W. H. Sikes, Miss Audrey Chaney, and Mrs. Ruth McGurie.

MADAME PERKINS AND PRESIDENT GREEN

Addressing the convention of the American Federation of Labor last week, Secretary Frances Perkins painted a glowing picture of the future relations of labor and capital. "Strikes and lock-outs will be fewer . . . Fundamental causes of the conflicts can be intelligently diagnosed and remedied . . . Labor is qualified and competent to define its obligations and to impose such to time. It should not be imposed upon itself these rules of discipline and self-government so necessary for the maintenance of its improved status in the community."

Contrast with these idealistic notions the address of President William Green to the federation a day or two ago. He was discussing the 30-hour-week which he regards as "the sole remedy for our present dilemma." He said among other things:

"We are going out of here and fight for this as we have never fought before. If there's anyone who opposes this, let him get out of the way, because the American Federation of Labor will not tolerate a slacker . . . Nothing will stop us from securing the 30-hour-week . . . We'll get it either through the exercise of our economic strength or through legislation. While many of us would rather get it through economic strength, I am sure we are not particularly concerned about the method as long as we get it."

Apart from his wholly unjustified belief that the 30-hour-week is a panacea for unemployment, President Green's attitude is certainly not that of a leader who comes up to Madame Perkins's noble conception. When he uses the words "economic strength," presumably he means strikes, boycotts, picketing and all that labor disturbances have meant in the past. His comment that he is not particular about methods is especially alarming. He gives no indication that the increased power which labor has received from the New Deal has sobered him or, indeed, had any other effect on him than to stimulate him to apply heavier and heavier pressure to those who disagree with him.

Labor has not disciplined itself heretofore. That it will do so hereafter merely is a hope, not an expectation among those who are familiar with labor activities.

Organized labor was never in greater need of wisdom, prudence and sound supervision than at present. American labor leaders have been deficient for many years in those qualities of leadership which have appeared among the British. President Green and his associates appear to have learned little or nothing from the futility of the 40-hour-week experiment under the New Deal. In their eagerness to advance their cause, they have consistently overlooked the welfare of the public and of the millions of unorganized workers.

Madame Perkins's ideals are simply unattainable under such a leader as Mr. Green. In effect he hints at a nation-wide strike to obtain a work week which in the end would be extremely harmful to industry, the public and to union labor itself. Let Madame Perkins make an effort to have the president of the federation discipline himself if she would usher in a strikeless era.—Boston Herald.

Italy, in penetrating Ethiopia, follows a trail through Senafe and Adigrat, marked out by the British in 1868, when Lord Napier led a punitive expedition, wiped out the army of the Abyssinian Emperor, who committed suicide—name was Theodore—and retired with interesting souvenirs, including an ancient manuscript describing the visit of Queen Magda of Sheba, or Abyssinia, to King Solomon, which told how Solomon happened to become the ancestor of all the Ethiopian Emperors, including Haile Selassie.—Arthur Brisbane.

"Stop" Means 15 Miles "Per" to Many Drivers

Drivers of trucks are more careful than drivers of passenger cars in observing "Stop" signs, according to engineers of the United States Bureau of Public Roads who studied traffic in cooperation with State authorities in Rhode Island. Nearly 16 per cent of the trucks and 20 per cent of the passenger cars passed stop signs at speeds between 3 and 15 miles an hour, but only 4.5 per cent of the trucks, as compared to nearly 7 per cent of the passenger cars, exceeded 15 miles an hour.

It was revealed that drivers of trucks prefer using their own judgment to obeying stop signs. The stop signs were more generally obeyed in urban than in rural districts, and in all locations the percentage of drivers obeying the signs rose as the volume of traffic increased. Even the less careful drivers stopped at intersections where traffic was heavy and there were obstructions to the driver's view of the intersecting road.

The Bulldogs will leave this morning for Farmington, where at 2:30 this afternoon they will play the first of a series of three out-of-town games before returning to their own field for a meeting with the Charleston Blue Jays on Thanksgiving.

 The wild life conservation camp will be at Squaw Creek Refuge, Mount City.
 The six drainage camps will be at Canton, Carrollton, Delta, New Madrid, Hayti and Rockport.
 The soil erosion prevent camps are held for: Bethany (two camps, Tarkio, Eagleview, Kahoka, Kirksville, Linneus, Palmyra, Blue Springs, Union, Fulton, Paris, Perryville, Butler, Mount Vernon, Liberty, Warrensburg, Savannah, Maysville, Salisbury, California, Bowling Green, Maryville, Albany and Moberly).

The number of CCC campers in Missouri will not be decreased because projects in thirteen state camps are being discontinued nor because camps in Minnesota and Arkansas are being disbanded, it was learned. Men at ten Missouri camps will be transferred to neighboring companies; and two companies will be moved to Nebraska; and a third to South Dakota. One hundred and fifty Minnesota recruits will be distributed throughout the state and about 300 Arkansas youths will be assigned to Southeast Missouri companies.
 The following Missouri camps will be disbanded and enrollees transferred to other camps.

Van Meter State Park, Marshall, Chesapeake State Park, Mount Vernon; Brownbranch, Ava; Camp Falcon, Lebanon; Camp Steelville, Dillard; Camp Cabool, Cabool; Camp Winona, Winona; No. 1740, one of two camps at Big Springs Park, Van Buren; and negro camp, Poplar Bluff.

One of the three companies at Kaiser, No. 1726, is to be transferred to Maryville and the veteran's company at Maryville is to be disbanded.
 The following companies will be moved to other states as indicated: Company 3740 and Company 740 at Camp Sam A. Baker, Piedmont, to Madison, Neb., and Spalding, Neb., respectively; Company 1738, Camp Ellsinore, Ellsinore, to Tilford, South Dakota.

HIRTH GATHERS HIS CORN

It seems the frost has nipped Bill Hirth's corn crop and the problem that concerns him most at the moment is to see how much of the crop he can save for winter feed. Bill, rattling good farmer that he is, knows that the birds have gone south early and that the varmints have extra heavy fur, meaning that it is going to be a long, hard winter. But after the corn is snugly in the crib, Bill has another little matter to attend to, namely, Tom Pendergast, who, as another famous Bill put it, bestrides our narrow world like a Colossus.
 Bill does not like dictators and dictators do not like him, so it seems it is up to Bill to pull a Cincinnatus, put a hitch in his galluses, spit on his hands and go into action. Not that the matter is finally decided, for Bill is the type of man who clouds up slowly. But as it is reported from Kansas City, Tom Pendergast's openly-expressed choice of Major Stark for Governor means that Hirth is "practically certain" to challenge the Pendergast organization by seeking the Democratic nomination for himself.

 If he does, Missouri will have one of the finest battles royal since the heyday of Jim Reed. The fur will fly, the feathers will float and the air will be full of loud and excruciating noises. For Bill packs a hefty wallop and, on the rostrum, makes verbs, nouns and adjectives perform nifty combinations. The State will be told about Pendergast as it never has been told before. That campaign will be no place for anyone with a faint heart or a lively liver.
 We admit pleasure at the possibility of Hirth's candidacy, but we fear that the fun will last only until the votes are counted.

After Pendergast's approval of Stark's candidacy was announced the St. Louis Democratic leaders fell over themselves in seconding the motion. That means that the two great populous centers of Missouri are, in all probability, in the Major's vest pocket. In addition, the Pendergast State machine is prepared to carry on the war into Bill Hirth's Africa, the country. On paper, therefore, the odds are that Bill hasn't a Chinaman's chance.
 Meantime, Bill is getting in his corn and thinking it over, carefully and quietly. One certain thing is that, if he does cloud up, he sure will rain.—Post Dispatch.

Of late everytime the telephone rings we jump sideways hoping it is news authorizing the building of our sewers and streets. But generally some one wants to rent a house or rooms. Then again we hear that projects will be cut up. In units as our man power is low. From Washington they say we have eleven million dollars released for Missouri, from Jefferson City that thousands of men are to be put to work by November 1, and from the local division headquarters, no projects received here to be released at this time. And there you are.

"The lighting system they have on the Sikeston field may have had something to do with all this fumbling. They have all equipment and not so many lights as are on the Chaffee field, and consequently the field is not as bright and well lighted as the Chaffee field."—Chaffee Signal.

An impression seems to prevail that hunting regulations have been changed for this year. This is not the case. The season and bag limits are the same as in the past and dog owners have nothing to worry about as dogs may be used in the field as in the past.

Cade, the florist of Cairo, was through Sikeston Thursday on his way home from Kennett, and while in the city paid The Standard a call. We are always glad to meet this splendid gentleman.

All Sikeston should be proud of our High School band, our Red Peppers and our Drill Team. They present a beautiful sight and add much to the entertainment at all school functions. In a few days new we are to have the state-wide Christian Endeavor meeting in this city and we wonder if it would be asking too much of the instructor, drill captains and all, to march this splendid group of young people down town and show our guests that we have something to show them besides our hospitality, our pretty homes and up-to-date stores.

CARTHAGE PLANT TO CLOSE BECAUSE OF LABOR CONDITIONS

CARTHAGE, Mo., Oct. 28—Officials of the Carmo Shoe Manufacturing Company announced yesterday its Carthage plant, employing 460 persons, would be closed because of unfavorable labor conditions.

In a statement to the Chamber of Commerce, company officials said that "owing to present conditions and the agitation which has been going on among our employees it is impossible for us to continue operation."

Factory officials said operations this year had resulted in heavy loss and with no indication of better co-operation from employees the company was unwilling to risk further loss.

The payroll has averaged $8,000 to $10,000 a week. The plant began operation in 1930.

Duplicate tags returned to the Game and Fish Department this week, revealed that deer were killed in thirteen counties during the three-day season. A total of eighty (80) deer were taken. The return by counties follows: Gasconade twenty-four; Taney, fourteen; Franklin, nine; Dent, nine; Crawford, five; Carter, seven; Ste. Genevieve, five; Osage, two; Dunklin, one; Ripley, one; Shannon, one; Wayne, one; Oregon, one; Later returns no doubt will swell the total to equal that of last year when ninety-three legal deer were taken in fifteen counties.

RECOVERY NOTES

Compiled by Dwight H. Brown, Secretary of State.

Newspaper advertising increased almost 4 per cent in September, as compared with a year ago, Advertising Age reports. Lineage figures for 82 representative cities showed a gain of 3.9 per cent, or 5,321,000 lines, over September, 1934. The total for last month was 142,448,000 lines, compared with 137,125,000 lines a year ago.

An increase of 54 per cent in building construction in 1934 is predicted by Russell G. Creviston at the Central Supply Association's convention. Creviston, official of a Chicago plumbing supply firm, estimates next year will see a 100 per cent increase in residential construction, a 200 per cent gain in commercial building, a 20 per cent increase in industrial building and a 10 per cent advance in the institutional building field.

The cotton-spinning industry is reported by the Census Bureau to have operated during September at 93.9 per cent of capacity, on a single-shift basis, compared with 78.4 per cent for August this year, and 54.3 per cent for September last year.

The first 88 corporations reporting earnings for the third quarter of 1935 show a gain of 18.7 per cent over the like quarter of 1934, a tabulation by the Associated Press shows. For the entire first nine months of the year, 93 corporations reporting showed a gain over the like period of last year of 23.3 per cent.

Secretary Roper predicts the nation's income would increase 5 to 10 per cent in 1935 from 1934's nearly $50,000,000,000. Addressing the National Sales Executives' Conference recently, the Secretary of Commerce summarized the business situation to show the "most encouraging sales pictures which have existed since 1929."

The F. W. Dodge Corporation reports that September home building amounted to almost $42,000,000, which is 134 per cent above September 1934. The total of $338,908,000 for the first nine months of 1935 compares with $188,083,000 for the same period in 1934, an increase of 80 per cent.

Bank clearings at Kansas City for the week ending October 19 exceeded 100 million dollars for the first time since the week ending July 18, 1931. This week's total of $100,300,000 represented an increase of 20 per cent over last week and 25 per cent over a year ago.

Business is better. The total revenues of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company for the nine months ended September 30 were $55,421,007, as compared with $52,609,982 for the corresponding period in 1934.

A September advance in private industrial employment to the highest level in five years is reported by Secretary of Labor

Perkins. She said factory pay rolls kept nearly apace in listing these figures. Approximately 350,000 workers returned to wage-paying jobs in September, compared with August's 155,000 gain. Weekly pay rolls for both manufacturing and non-manufacturing industries advanced more than $12,000,000 over August.

"We are headed out of the depression and well on our way to recovery," declares August A. Busch, Jr., St. Louis capitalist. "During the next eighteen months," he predicted, "the bulk of the unemployed of America will be back at work in private industry."

Business is definitely on the up-grade in the Katy territory, says Matthew S. Sloan, M. K. and T. president. He says that the road's October business will show a 35 per cent rise over October 1934, and November and December traffic will be at least 25 per cent above the corresponding period last year.

Average weekly freight loadings of miscellaneous manufactured goods in carload lots during September were 8 per cent above August. Movement of goods by truck is estimated at 20 per cent greater than a year ago.

The Farm Administration expended $1,418,479 in Missouri in July. Only the Hawaiian Islands, Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas received a greater amount. Missouri farmers received $1,340,060 in rental and benefit payments during the month.

Research Points Way to Longer Lasting Leathers

Research studies in progress by chemists of the United States Department of Agriculture show that longer life for leather bookbindings and other leather goods intended for many years of service may be obtained through the development of combination vegetable-chrome tanned leathers to take the place of the purely vegetable-tanned leathers so generally used today.

Vegetable chrome tanned leather is more resistant to rot from acids in the air than vegetable-tanned leather, according to studies by R. W. Frey, and C. W. Beebe, of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils.

Vegetable-tanned leather is entirely organic, being made with infusions of vegetable materials, such as woods, barks, leaves, and fruits. Chrome-tanned leather, in distinct contrast, is partly mineral in nature being tanned with compounds of the metal chromium. A combination of these two tannages appears to offer promise of a compromise in satisfactory workability of the resulting leather plus marked increase in resistance to decay over the straight vegetable tannages.

The two differently tanned leathers were subjected to accelerated aging and rotting by exposure in a gas chamber at the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils. After 9 weeks' exposure the combination vegetable-chrome tanned leathers lost only from 5 to 12 per cent of their strength as compared to losses of from 35 to 40 per cent for the vegetable-tanned leathers made from the very same hides.

Although at first the vegetable-tanned leathers were stronger their rate of rotting was so much faster that after 9 weeks in the gas chamber their strength was less than that of the combination tanned leathers.

ANNISTON MAN KILLS SELF ACCIDENTALLY

Charleston, Oct. 28.—M. A. Hicks, 72, of Anniston, eight miles south of Charleston, accidentally shot and killed himself about 11:30 this morning. Mr. Hicks, a prominent resident of Anniston for about forty years, had been in the back yard of his home, where he had killed a chicken hawk with a shotgun. It is supposed that he stumbled on the back steps, returning inside the house, discharging the gun, shooting himself between the eyes and blowing the top of his head off.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mae Hicks, two sons, Col. C. D. Hicks, of St. Louis, Noral Hicks of New Madrid; three daughters, Mrs. R. N. Stewart, Mrs. E. M. Stewart, and Mrs. Roxy Hudson, and two grandchildren, of Anniston.

COUNTY VOTES 15-to-1 ON CORN-HOG REFERENDUM

Corn-hog contract signers voted fifteen to one to continue the program and non-signers voted twelve to one to continue a corn-hog adjustment program.

Seventy-two per cent of the eligible corn-hog contract signers cast a ballot. Due to the fact that such a large percentage cast a ballot, the vote is interpreted to give a true picture of what Scott County farmers think about the adjustment programs. Every township in the county gave a strong ballot in favor, showing that the sentiment was uniform over the county. Two townships did not have a "No" vote among the contract signers. These two were Kelso and Tywappity.

The contract signers gave a vote of 358 "yes" and 25 "no" while the non-signers gave 103 "yes" and 15 "no".

Bank clearings continue well above those reported at this time in recent years. The total for leading cities for the week ending Wednesday, October 9, as reported by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., was $5,025,048,000, against $4,021,619,000 a year ago, an increase of 25 per cent. For the preceding week, the advance was 37.1 per cent.

CAPE COD STYLE HOUSE
IS BEING BUILT ON LAKE

A five-room frame house is being built on Lake street for Mrs. Florence Marshall of Blodgett.

Miss Alice Walton, a Kansas City architect who came here in September, has chosen a southern adaptation of a Cape Cod style for the residence.

From a small portico ornamented with two pillars and wrought iron railings one will enter a hallway fitted with a large coat closet.

The living room, 16.3 by 15.9 feet on the right, has several windows and a fireplace. To the left of the entrance hall is a bedroom, which is connected with a second directly behind it by the bath. Both rooms have large closets.

Miss Walton has designed the pullman kitchen so that the house occupant may reach any part of it with only turning. The sink is along the south wall under a window; the range on the north wall; and the icebox in a space next to a door into the rear passageway.

The breakfast room is to the right of the kitchen behind the living room. Linen and broom closets are in the rear passageway.

Part of the basement, which will be placed under half the house, may be converted into a recreation room if the occupant desires. The absence of supporting posts will leave the entire space next to the furnace clear.

Cape Cod shutters will be placed on the windows, and the back of the house will resemble a front entrance in order that its elevation may be attractive from the garden.

Excavation for the house on Mrs. Marshall's 50-by-160 lot between Kingshighway and North Ranney was begun Wednesday. Miss Walton is superintending construction and J. A. Sutterfield is contractor. The residence will be rented when it is completed in sixty days.

CITY MUST CONTRIBUTE
$2500 TO GET ARMORY

Delay in final approval of an armory for Sikeston has been caused in previously announced plans concerning construction of forty-five buildings throughout the state with WPA funds, it was learned this week. Missouri national guard heads who had charge of placing the armories in the state were told recently that individual cities must serve as sponsors for the projects, contributing about $2500 each as their share in addition to donating lots for building sites. No definite information about Sikeston's armory will be available for at least a week.

OGLESBY TO CONDUCT
REVIVAL AT ELVINS

FOREMOST COMPOSER MAY
PERFORM HERE IN MARCH

Charles Wakefield Cadman, who is perhaps America's foremost composer, may come here for a performance next March. Superintendent Roy V. Ellise said yesterday.

Cadman's appearance will be assured if it is backed satisfactorily. Mr. Ellise said. Members of the Woman's club will discuss sponsoring the performance at their meeting Tuesday, and other organizations are expected to offer help so that residents may hear Cadman.

Cadman is composer of numerous well-known pieces and is remembered particularly because of his songs with Indian themes, including "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water" and "To a Vanishing Race", and his opera, "Shanewis".

Cadman has only recently returned from a summer's tour of Sweden and Denmark, where he was enthusiastically received by audiences and critics. His appearance here would add another name to the list of internationally known men coming here this fall and winter: Alberto Salvi, the harpist who appeared last week, and Richard Halliburton, the noted traveler who will speak January 7. Cadman will be accompanied by a talented quartet.

THERE'S NO CANT IN A CAN!

We hear a great deal about French cuisine, Italian cuisine and hotel cuisines as though a cuisine were some remarkable thing found only in the big metropolis or abroad, where they spent three or four days making soup or sauerbraten. As a matter of fact, you, I and every woman who has her own kitchen has a cuisine. It's only a style of cooking, and we each have a style of our own whether in wearing a hat or preparing a dinner.

Our modern way, of course, is as work-and-time saving as the continental way is laborious. A French woman may use twenty ingredients in a stew and keep it blending and brewing on the back of her stove for days, while we come in from a bridge party at five o'clock in the afternoon, open three or four cans, bring out a supply of seasoning and by six our stew is done—a stew which a master of cuisine could well be proud of.

Actually, there's no can't for a woman whose cupboard is full of cans. Some people think canned foods are uninteresting, and that opening a can is usually a last resort. Of course cold, unseasoned apple sauce, sauer kraut or cat-cats, as they come out of a can, have little appeal until you do something with them. But heat the applesauce, seasoning it to taste with brown sugar and spice, and you could fool anybody that you'd spent a good part of the morning paring apples. Prepare the sauerkraut in typical German style, heating it in drippings which have been thickened with a little flour, then adding vinegar, cloves, brown sugar and water, letting it simmer twenty minutes, and finally adding a raw apple cut up very fine just before serving.

Carrots from a can taste garden-fresh if you prepare them in this interesting Belgian way. Use diced carrots or dice the canned carrots before heating them in a casserole with two tablespoons of butter, to teaspoons of powdered sugar, a small chopped onion, and salt and pepper to taste. Garnish with minced parsley before serving.

Just to give an idea of the dishes which can easily and quickly be prepared by "opening a can" there's lamb stew with dumplings (the lamb stew is canned); salmon biscuit rolls, made with canned salmon and prepared biscuit mix; sardines on toast with cheese and tomato sauce (sardines are canned, tomato sauce is condensed tomato soup); kidney beans and hamburger; hominy and stuffed apples; tomatoes, carrots and lima beans baked.

We usually think of canned foods as a matter of convenience. But they represent economy from three distinct angles; buying economy, fuel economy and time saving. The buying economy enters in when the larger sized cans are purchased, and the part of their contents which cannot be used immediately are stored in the refrigerator.

If you have a good-sized electric refrigerator for such storage, you will never find it necessary to use the second portion of spinach or corn the next day after using these vegetables in a dinner. Canned foods stored in a food compartment which holds an unvarying temperature between 50 degrees will be fully as fresh and palatable two or three days later. Use No. 2 1-2 size cans, for they hold one cupful more than the No. 2 cans and the additional cost is very small.

Kidney Beans and Beef

1 No. 2 can kidney beans
1-2 lb. Beef ground
1-4 lb. salt pork
1 onion chopped
Chop onion and salt pork, cook in a frying pan until onion is light brown, add ground beef and brown it. Add the kidney beans, season and cook until ingredients are thoroughly blended. Serves 4-6.

Tomato Omelet

1 No. 2 can tomatoes
4 eggs
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1-2 cup milk
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
Seasonings
Cook the tomatoes and seasonings until the juice has been reduced about one half. Soak the bread crumbs in the milk about 20 minutes. Beat the eggs, add the half teaspoon salt, combine with the milk and bread crumbs. Cook in a frying pan or omelet pan in the butter. When firm, fold the omelet, serve on a hot platter surrounded by the hot seasoned tomatoes. Serves 4.

Apple Gingerbread

1 No. 2 can sliced apples
1-4 cup brown sugar
1 tsp butter
1 teaspoon mixed spices.

All convention sessions will be held in the Methodist church auditorium, which is being ornamented with a large marine anchor of artificial flowers, suspended from the church dome as a symbol of faith and loyalty. The church exterior is being flood-lighted.

Throughout town residents are co-operating to make the convention an outstanding success on the first time that it is held in a city of this size. Merchants will decorate their windows with fitting

PLANS MADE FOR ANNUAL RED CROSS ROLL CALL

A continued increase in membership and in health and safety activities is reported by the American Red Cross for the last fiscal year according to E. H. Orear, chairman of the local chapter. Announcing the period of the Roll Call for this chapter, beginning on Armistice Day and ending Thanksgiving Day, the chairman reminded local members of its added responsibilities.

"Because the Red Cross is not altogether a governmental agency nor wholly a private one," he said, "it has a unique place in American life in this era when economic and physical relief must be given to many people, in all communities."

"Under our charter obligations we must be prepared to act in times of emergency, and we have to carry on in the name of the American people, the service to War veterans and service men, pledged in our charter."

"Organized as we are, in 3,700 chapters and 9,000 branches all over the United States, and having a trained staff and thousands of volunteer workers ready to handle disasters, the Red Cross is in a position to give instant and effective work in every day life of our communities. Services to handle disasters, the Red Cross needs, and training for leaders for the future, are included in the departments of Red Cross service."

"Disaster relief stands guard 24 hours of every day and night, year after year. Last year Red Cross relief was given in 123 disaster areas in the continental United States."

"Home service for veterans and service men and their dependents is strictly community service. Many chapters actually bring in to their communities, through claims work, more money per annum than the total asked by the chapter from the public for the entire chapter program."

"First aid and life saving is an educational service, which gives valuable training for men in industry, police and fire departments and individuals in the home and school."

The public health nursing service carries on an educational program of health, and promotes practical health projects for schools, communities and homes. A reserve of Red Cross nurses is maintained for service in disaster or other emergency.

"The Junior Red Cross offers local, national and international contacts for teachers and pupils, thus giving new meaning to studies of geography and history. The training in relief and humanitarian work affords an invaluable training for community service for future citizens."

"Volunteer services include production of garments and other relief essentials, motor and carpool units, staff assistance corps-trained workers for all types of specific services, for emergency or routine chapter activities."

"Red Cross membership dollars buy these services for any chapter, any community. The Scott County Chapter will shortly begin a canvass to urge that the whole community unite in giving a larger membership, and thus a larger opportunity, for the Red Cross in this community."

Geo. W. Kirk of Sikeston has been appointed Roll Call Chairman for Scott County and is now making plans for the membership drive for this year.

FARM IMPROVEMENT WORK INDICATION OF RECOVERY

An additional sign of recovery was noted this week when it was learned that large insurance company, owner of vast tracts in this district, is having numerous of its farms improved.

In Northeast Arkansas, a company contractor and carpenter has recently placed on each of five eighty-acre tracts these improvements: one and a half story house; a barn; a smokehouse; a chicken house; a latrine; and complete fencing. The work is thought to indicate that large landowners are beginning to rehabilitate the land.

Thurman was able to continue his journey after Dr. Howard A. Dunaway had treated him.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK SHOW TO OPEN NOVEMBER 30

The 1935 International Livestock Exposition will be held at the union stockyards in Chicago from November 30 to December 7, it was announced today.

P. H. Heide, an executive of the exposition, said: "Although the 1934 exposition established a new record for exhibits and an all time record for attendance, every indication is that the forthcoming show will exceed its predecessor in both respects." Many features are being planned for this winter's exposition, including several for entertainment as well as education.

Jefferson City, Mo., October 29.—Passenger motor cars manufactured, assembled and sold in this state after January 1, 1936, must be equipped all around with "safety glass" under the provision of House bill No. 176, sponsored by Speaker John G. Christy and passed by the Assembly and approved by Gov. Park.

In an interpretation of this law sent to Secretary of State Dwight H. Brown, today, Attorney General McKittick holds that trucks need not be so equipped if passengers are not carried for hire. Under this interpretation, the act applies only to busses and automobiles.

It is held by the Attorney General that any vehicle, truck, or bus, or passenger car used for the purpose of carrying passengers for hire must be equipped with safety glass.

Palmer Bock, 11, wanted to help his dad work on the car in the family garage, 7216 Everett avenue, Chicago. Mother said all right, so Palmer went, and arrived in time to save his father from carbon monoxide death. The man had been overcome in the closed garage. Firemen called by the boy revived Bock after a two-hour fight.

FEED MY SHEEP

Evening shadows were falling, I sat in the old arm chair, Weighted by grief and sorrow, Thinking of worldly care, A vision appeared, 'twas the Master, The picture was mirrored there, The Shepherd had gathered the sheep to the fold, With his ever watchful care. I gazed with awe and wonder, Spellbound as though in sleep, "What wouldst Thou have, O Master?" And he answered, "Feed my Sheep."

I thought 'twas a dream or a feverish thought And turned to my worldly life again, Why call on one so humble I thought, 'Twas surely not I that the Master sought, A storm arose o'er the city, The vision a vigil did keep, "Have mercy, O Master," I whispered, But he answered, "Feed my Sheep!"

"I burn on thy forehead my living word, I mark thee as my own, This comes from the God Almighty, Being my children home, "Go ye into all the world, And preach my word to them. I give to thee my spirit, To save the souls of men. "I will go, O loving Master, O'er mountain, valley and deep, I thy command will answer, Master, I feed thy sheep!" —Adah McRaven.

Stop Chills and Fever!

Rid Your System of Malaria!

Shivering with chills one moment and burning with fever the next—that's one of the effects of Malaria. Unless checked, the disease will do serious harm to your health. Malaria, a blood infection, calls for two things. First, destroying the infection in the blood. Second, building up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and to fortify against further attack.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic supplies both these effects. It contains tasteless quinine, which kills the infection in the blood, and iron, which enriches and builds up the blood. Chills and fever soon stop and you are restored to health and comfort. For half a century, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic has been sure relief for Malaria. It is just as useful, too, as a general tonic for old and young. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle at any drug store. Now two sizes—50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2½ times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25% more for your money.

Mrs. Ann Wolderdorp of Kalamazoo, Mich., who has been here for two weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Clayton, left Thursday morning by motor for her home.

WHAT ABOUT THE ITALIAN-ETHIOPIAN WAR?

By Elder John B. Huffman

Elder Huffman again says that he had closed his street preaching in Sikeston for 1935, but, upon request, will make one more important Bible talk Saturday afternoon, November 2, at 2 o'clock, in the little park in front of Sterling's store, on the "Termination of the Italian-Ethiopian War", what will be the climax, what nations will eventually be drawn into it, according to Bible prophecy, and will this eventually lead to the Anti-christ. Must the Roman Empire really be revived, as the Bible affirms, to bring about the culmination of events that are shaping and have begun, which will require just a few years to complete—perhaps not more than three or four.

This is a very important Bible lecture, and the most important pertaining to prophetic events and the Signs of the Times and the time of the end of this dispensation, leading to the Anti-Christ.

Everybody invited to hear this very important lecture pertaining to these critical times. It will be of much value to Bible students, and to the general public who like undenominational Biblical explanations, says Elder Huffman.

PAT MURPHY BROUGHT HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Miss Pat Murphy, who has been in the St. Francis hospital at Cape Girardeau since October 20, recovering from a broken shoulder, collarbone and ribs, as well as severe lacerations, was taken to the home of Mrs. Clara Hurt on Northwest street Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Murphy was brought here in the Albritton ambulance when physicians found her condition satisfactory. Miss Muriel HHurt, who was more seriously injured when the car Mrs. Mildred Blake was driving to Sikeston left Highway 61 in Pemiscot county, will remain in the hospital two or three weeks longer. Surgeons who operated October 21 on a vertebra broken in the accident, have found that the lower part of Miss Hurt's body is still paralyzed. Her legs will be kept in a cast for five or six months.

Mrs. Blake was brought home from the hospital last week.

The Fidelis class of the First Baptist church will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. C. E. Jones, 418 Prosperity, Monday evening, November 4, at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Lorene Boyer will be assistant hostess.

The French Minister of War is having trouble. The tallest soldier in the French Army, Robert Tiers, is 6 feet 6 inches in height and requires a special uniform and a made-to-order bed. None of the army issue will fit.

In Berkeley, Calif., a Nazi flag was discovered on the University of California flagpole. University officials speedily hauled it down, substituting the largest American flag they could find. In St. Louis some patriotic vandal ruined a painting of Navajo Indian relics in the Old Courthouse, because it included a swastika design. The canvas, by Charles Morgenthaler, was slashed several times with a knife.

GOV. PARK NOT READY TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 29.—Gov. Park reiterated today it was still "premature" to call a special session of the Legislature for revising the old-age pension laws.

This was the substance of a reply to Dr. R. Emmet Kane, chairman of the St. Louis Old-Age Assistance Board, which requested the session to pass an act "that will accomplish the purpose that the people of Missouri have been led to hope and believe it will accomplish."

"It is my opinion," the Governor said, "that calling a special session of the Legislature for that purpose at this time would be premature. My thought is that the legislation hastily considered and enacted without full information of the facts relating to the subject matter is never desirable and rarely useful."

"At this time, the amount to be realized from the sales tax, from which source funds for old-age pensions purposes will come, has not been accurately ascertained."

The Last Outpost

from the Paramount Picture by the same name

SYNOPSIS
Captain Michael Andrews, of a British armored car detachment on the Eastern Front, is rescued from the Turks by a mysterious British secret service agent who calls himself "Smith." In a battle with Smith, Andrews suffers a broken leg and is sent to a British hospital in Cairo, where he falls in love with his nurse, Rosemary. He asks Rosemary to marry him, but she reveals that she married a secret service agent who vanished at the outbreak of the war. Her husband, John Stevenson, who is the mysterious "Smith," reappears on the scene and asks Rosemary to go away with him. Stevenson, Andrews is ordered away on a mission. Before he leaves, he sees Rosemary. They have a quarrel and on her way home Rosemary is run down by a truck and dies in her husband's arms calling for "Michael."

CHAPTER VII

At first Stevenson was merely stunned by his wife's death and her mention of another man's name. But after her funeral the finding of "Michael" became an obsession with him. First he went to the hospital to search the records for a patient having that first name. Surely enough he found Captain Michael Andrews listed in the register.

Then he invited Nurse Rowlands to his home and proceeded to pump her for information. At first the girl was frightened and refused to tell him anything.

"But you were a great friend of my wife's, weren't you?" he persisted, staring at her unwinkingly. "We...we worked together. She was the loveliest person I ever knew, but I..."

Stevenson rose as she choked back her tears. He placed a consoling hand on the girl's shoulder. Then he crossed to the writing table and picked up an envelope which lay there.

"Before she died, my wife gave me this," he said softly. "She asked me to give it to 'Michael.' Do you know who 'Michael' is? I want to deliver the letter. I gathered that he was a patient, but there might be twenty Michaels."

Disarmed by his calmness, Nurse Rowlands stammered: "What... what's in that letter?"

"I haven't any idea. All I want to know is how to do...what my wife wanted."

"It must be Captain Andrews," hesitated the girl. "His name was Michael. He was a great favorite...with everyone."

Slowly Stevenson tore the letter into small pieces.

"That's all I wanted to know," he said harshly. "You may go."

Reporting at general headquarters, Stevenson next inquired as to the whereabouts of his "friend," Captain Andrews. Learning that the latter had been sent to the Sudan, he then approached the lieutenant general in charge and asked to return to the front.

"Haven't you had enough?" His superior officer was surprised. "You've got four months leave to go yet."

"I want something to do, sir," replied Stevenson miserably. "I don't want to think. My wife's death, you know..."

"Of course! Of course!" answered the embarrassed general. "Foolish of me. Well now, let's see..." He turned to his maps.

"Something new, sir..." Stevenson persisted, his black eyes gleaming. "If anything's doing in the Sudan, for instance?"

The general started, struck by the idea. "Hmmm," he said thoughtsirens still brought no answer. Andrews stepped forward and put a shoulder against one of the gates. It was unlocked. Puzzled and hesitant the little party entered, then stopped in horror.

The inside of the fort was a shambles. Dead men lay crumpled in awkward positions on all sides. Empty gasoline cans were scattered about the courtyard.

"No wonder we didn't see no sentries, sir," whispered Foster. "The tribesmen stormed the fort and gutted it. I say! This is pretty awful!"

"Bad business!" agreed Andrews. "Wonder whether there's a drop of

In the meantime Andrews and his armored car unit were forging through the desert on their way to relieve a fortress which had been surrounded by enemy tribesmen. The road was long and dangerous and their gasoline began to run low. It was with a sigh of relief that the captain sighted the mud ramparts of the fortress in the distance.

"Think we can make it?" he asked the driver.

"If it ain't more than ten miles away, sir," answered the soldier, peering through the narrow slit of the windshield and then at the gasoline gauge where the needle quivered near "Zero."

Their luck held and an hour later all the cars of the unit pulled up before the gates of the fort.

"That's queer! Not a sign of anybody," muttered Andrews. "Foster," he shouted to his orderly. "Give 'em a toot."

When the shrieking of the auto

water or a can of petrol left?" "Don't think so, sir," answered a sergeant who had been investigating. "The water casks are all staved in."

"Prescott," cried the captain, turning to a young soldier, barely out of his teens. "Go back to the cars at once. Get them all through the gates. Then get a fatigue party to put all the available fuel from the cars into the tank of yours. Hurry now!"

"Right," answered the boy with a smart salute.

"Only thing to do is to tend your car back to Halfa to bring fuel and water. We'll stick it out here. If you're not back in three days, or the natives attack again, God help us!"

Glowing with pride that he had been chosen as the one to make the relief sortie and not realizing that Andrews had given him the assignment to protect him from almost certain death, Prescott hurried back to his machine to execute the order.

In contrast with the mixed trend prevailing during the first six months of this year, general business activity in the third quarter recorded a definite improvement over comparable 1934 levels. Moving contra-seasonally, the Administrative Research Weekly Index of Business Trend maintained a naverage of 70.75 during the three-months' period as against 63.18 a year ago. Fifty thousand coal miners of Illinois are confident that recovery is here. They have just received new wage contracts providing wage increases which it is estimated will average $200 per year for every worker, or a total of $10,000,000 in their aggregate pay envelope.

Average increases of 3.7 per cent in employment and 4.5 per cent in pay rolls for September compared with August were reported by 4437 manufacturing enterprises in Illinois.
